SENATORS FOR ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Suggestion of President in New York Speech, However, Takes Congress by Surprise, in View of Reported Opposition to Pepper's Resolution.

MINORITY LEADER
COLD TO PLAN

Robinson Sees No Advantage in an Independent Parley When League of Nations Is Available Instrumentality.

Special to the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The scope of President Coolidge's political activities have doubled. Already busy with his presidential campaign, Mr. Coolidge returned to Washington today from New York to take upon himself the added burden imposed by his plunge into European politics.

No outward change may be expected immediately in the American policy toward the reparations debts and other European problems, as the result of the President's declaration of his desire to attend a helping hand across the Atlantic, administration officials today. They pointed out, however, that the President has shown the way and has thus made the United States more than ever an important factor in any European adjustment.

In Congress, where suggestions for a new world armament conference have been frowned upon by administration leaders, Mr. Cool-idge's declaration of independence may lead to further limitation caused by the Senate's inaction.

Day Revive Pepper Plan.
Less than a month ago, when Senator Pepper (Rep.), Penn., tried to put a resolution before the Senate calling a new conference to limit naval and aircraft construction, there was a general understanding that the President did not think the present adjustment of international affairs suggested for the success of such an undertaking. The same thing happened in the House when the naval appropriation bill was under consideration.

Now that the President has indicated his approval of another armament conference as soon as European economic stability is assured, efforts will be made to get the Senate's endorsement of the upper resolution.

Everything depends, however,
upon a reparations settlement predicated upon the Dawes plan.
Republicans Approve.

Republican Senators generally approved of the President's plan for a new armament conference, but were quick to point out that it was impossible to tell when world conditions would permit the great powers to come together in the spirit that made President Harding's conference a success three years ago.

The Democratic attitude was expressed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, minority leader, who said he could see "no advantage calling an independent conference when we could take advantage of the League of Nations."

Senator Borah (Rep.) Idaho, one of the leading advocates of world disarmament, said:

"I am very much in favor of an economic and armament conference, but without adjustment of the economic problem, I feel there will be no general disarmament.
Until the Russian and Ruhr problems are settled no action can be taken to disarm."

Senator Lodge, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he was "heartily in favor of the President's suggestion."

Among the Democrats who approved the conference proposal was Senator Walsh (Dem.) Massachusetts, who said:

"Any move that will bring about world disarmament is to be encouraged."

Senator Wadsworth (Rep.) New York, said:

"I think the President is very wise to suggest a disarmament conference after the settlement of the economic problem. It would be quite impractical until the reparations and other problems were settled."

Other Republicans who invited the President's proposal, were Norris of Nebraska; Willis of Missouri; and Clegg of New York.

EXHIBITION AT WEMBLEY OPENED

In Colorful Pageant, Prince of Wales Turns Over Display of Art and Industry to King George.

SPEECH BROADCAST
THROUGH EMPIRE

All Races Under Union Jack Represented in Show Which Attracts Thousands on First Day.

By the Associated Press.

WEMBLEY, England, April 23.

The British Empire exhibition, covering 220 acres of ground and including displays from every part of the British commonwealth, was opened today by King George, to continue until September as the mecca of thousands from overseas,
as well as the millions of the United Kingdom.

The exhibition was formally turned over to the King by the Prince of Wales, as president, at a colorful ceremony.

An assemblage of more than 150,000 persons of white, black, yellow, brown and intermediate hues, standing with bared heads in an athletic stadium far larger than any erected by the Greeks and Romans in the days of their imperial glory, saw and heard King George V as he formally opened to the whole world this exhibition of the world's laborers of the hundreds of millions of people under his scepter.

With the King on a temporary throne was the Queen and surrounding them members of their family, their court, and many a noble lord and lady all gathered under a great canopy of royal purple, gold and the flaming red of the Empire.

Speeches Broadcast to Thousands.

The addresses of the King and Prince, picked up by radio, were heard by more persons than have ever listened at one time to the words of a British sovereign and his heir apparent.

Hundreds of thousands throughout the British Isles heard their ruler's voice for the first time. In London loud speakers had been set up in the public squares.

Long before opening time long queues of people were waiting at the various entrances to get a glimpse of the King's procession.

When the gates were opened thousands poured through the turnstiles and took up vantage points. In the meantime the massed bands of various regiments played selections, as well as accompanying a great choir of 10,000 voices under the conductorship of Sir Edward Elgar.

The people kept on pouring in from all parts of London by scores of special trains and swarms of motor buses and private cars. A feature of the attendance was an enormous number of school children marshaled by their teachers.

The Prince of Wales, in turning over the exhibition to his father, said:

"The Dominions, India, the Colonies, the protectorates and the United Kingdom."

CELIA COONEY.

WARNS POLICE TO QUIT
FRAMING LIQUOR CASES

Judge Falkenhainer Orders
"Worked Up" Charge Against Former Patrolman Dismissed.

"The police will have to quit
'framing' liquor cases." Circuit Judge Falkenhainer remarked today in ordering the State to nolle pross a charge of selling liquor which police had "worked up" against Lawrence Doran, himself a police officer for 26 years. Doran resigned from the force on Feb. 23,
two days after he had been arrested and charged with selling a pint of whisky for $2, a felony.

When the case was called today, Doran, through an attorney, offered to plead guilty to illegal possession of liquor, but denied selling
it. Before calling a jury, Falkenhainer questioned the witnesses. It developed that police officials had received a tip that Doran was selling liquor at his home, 5295 Enright avenue, and that Probationary Patrolman Eganreither had been detailed to make a "buy" from him.

Eganreither told the judge he went to Doran's home and another man told Doran the other man was ill and wanted whisky. Doran gave the man a drink and then sold him what remained in the bottle for $2, the witness said. Doran confirmed the fact that he had the whisky and had let it go to the "sick" man, but denied taking any money in exchange.

"The whisky obviously was obtained by trickery," the judge commented. He then declared the police should cease "framing"
cases, and ordered the nolle pross, which was entered, and Doran freed.

Federal Judge Dyer took a similar stand against "framed" liquor evidence the other day and let the defendant off with a 1-cent fine.

JOHN COOLIDGE "LISTENS IN"

By the Associated Press.

PLYMOUTH, Vt., April 23.—

John C. Coolidge, father of President Coolidge, walked half a mile to the home of Dick Brown, a neighbor, and "listened in" yesterday on the radio while the President delivered his address at the Associated Press luncheon in New York. Coolidge remarked that the reception was perfect, but declined to comment on the matter of his son's address. "I noticed that those newspaper men cheered him quite a bit," he added.

There is no radio installation in the Coolidge home in Plymouth.
The President's father explained that his housekeeper objected to being "bothered with it" for the same reason a telephone, which was installed in the house when Calvin Coolidge was notified last summer at his father's home of his succession to the presidency was removed soon afterward.

BOBBED BANDIT

Celia Cooney and "Tall

Sentences Monday for First-Degree Robbery.

IDENTIFIED BY NUMEROUS VICTIMS

Refusing to Accept Aid of Shun Legal Fight.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Celia

Cooney, confessed bobbed-hair bandit,
and her husband, Edward S.
Cooney, today pleaded guilty to an indictment charging robbery in the first degree when arraigned before County Judge Martin in Brooklyn.

They were remanded to jail for sentence on Monday.

They refused to accept the services of counsel, engaged by Cooney's brother, who offered a plea of not guilty. They said they had employed no lawyers and needed none.

Thirteen persons, most of them
holdup victims, earlier in the day had identified Mrs. Cooney as the "bandit," and her husband as her companion in various robberies.

The girl, dressed in the familiar sleek suit, corset, urban and gray, head-trimmed dress, and her husband, faced the lineup in a Brooklyn police station in good spirits.

Reins After Identification.

Nathan Mazzeo, assistant cashier of the National Biscuit Co. warehouse, Brooklyn, who was shot
during a holdup, said: "Yes, that's the girl."

"I'm sorry you were shot," Mrs.
Cooney told him.

Miss Helen Fogarty, another employee of the biscuit company, was carried from the room in a faint
after making the identification.

Both the girl and her husband corroborated statements of witnesses many times. In one instance, when a woman declared they had taken $25 from her till, Cooney said they got only $17. In another case, when the witness insisted that the pair robbed his store of $150, Cooney said, "Oh, no, we got only $60 from him."

FORD BUYS ANCIENT STAGE COACH FROM INN-KEEPER

BALTIMORE, Md., April 22.—Henry Ford has added to his collection of relics by the purchase of an ancient stage coach from an inn-keeper on Belair road, Md.

The vehicle, which traveled the roads of the White Mountains for many years, came into the possession of the innkeeper about 25 years ago. It was left at his place by a New Hampshire man who was on his way to California, towing the coach behind his automobile. In the vicinity of the inn the coach broke down and F. J. Goettner, innkeeper, bought it.

According to Goettner, Ford saw the stage coach when he stopped at the inn on an automobile trip last September, and began negotiations for it. The sale was recently completed, Goettner said, and the vehicle will be shipped to Dearborn, Mich., today.

VANDALS SMEAR RESIDENCE

Tar and creosote was smeared over new paint on seven residences last night. The vandals, the police believe, are painters involved in the painters' strike.

Six of the damaged buildings are at 3824 to 3826 Lee avenue, the property of Mrs. Mary Kramer. The seventh residence, at 4223 North Broadway, and one at 4219 W. Finney avenue, the property of George Stevens.

ORDINANCE MUST BE ENACTED, HOWEVER, TO REJECT OTHER OFFERS, COUNSELLOR RULES.

SAYS $40,000 CHECK MAY BE ACCEPTED

Board of Public Service Had Asked for Opinion in Controversy Over South Side Streets.

City Counsellor Smith, in an opinion today to the Board of Public Service, held the city could reject bids on street paving under the ordinance to receive new bids for certain South Side streets, on which the Central Paving and Construction Co. recently was low bidder under the Willite specification.

He also held that the city could accept a $40,000 cashier's check, proffered by the Trinidad Asphalt Manufacturing Co. as a guarantee to pave the streets cheaper if the Willite specification is withdrawn and a new letting made.

After reading Smith's opinion, President Kinsey of the board, at the last scheduled public hearing on the matter and asserted that enactment of a new ordinance and the paying of these streets for at least a year. Four property owners along affected streets, declared the paving was needed at once and advised against "kicking the can down the road," the Trinidad company's proposition.

The board then took the matter under advisement, as Kinsey had said Smith's opinion was too involved for an immediate decision.

President Kinsey had asked for the opinion in the controversy over the Willite specification. As has been told, it is proposed to pave part of Castellan, Cleveland, Belmont, Elm and Longborough avenues with the Willite process. The Central Paving and Construction Co. was low bidder, with $2.59 a square yard. The Trinidad company contends that Willite is a closed specification and will create a monopoly, that its use will make high prices in paving and that it is not superior to smooth sheet asphalt. Some property owners on the streets, however, have protested against the Willite specification.

Shelby L. Heman, president of the Trinidad company, has stated his company can save property owners $25,000 to $40,000 on the streets if the Willite specification is withdrawn.

E. R. Gibson, secretary-treasurer of the Central Paving and Construction Co., declared at the hearing that there was no connection between his firm and the Willite company. In answer to Heman's question of how he explained the fact that his company and the Trinidad company were both incorporated on the same day, with the same amount of capital stock and with the incorporation papers certified to by the same notary, Gibson declared he only knew the company was organized, and had no knowledge of the other's incorporation.

POLICE BOARD WILL NAME LIEUTENANTS AND SERGEANTS

Special Meeting of Body Will Also Accept Resignation of Capt. William J. Doyle.

The Police Board will meet in special session Saturday to accept the resignation of Capt. William J. Doyle of the Wyoming Street District and to retire him at his own request on a patrolman's pay, and to appoint two new lieutenants and 10 new Police Sergeants.

A successor to Capt. Doyle represents one of the lieutenants, and the other is to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lieut. Nicholas MacFarland several months ago. These appointments will create two vacancies; there is a vacancy now, and the new police force, which becomes effective May 1, creates seven new vacancies.

Capt. Doyle lives at 2510 Alhambra court, visited President Brockman yesterday, and asked to be relieved on account of ill health. He was appointed to the position of a patrolman's pay, and has been in the position of a patrolman for 10 years. He was appointed to the position of a patrolman in August. He was made lieutenant in 1907 and Captain in 1912. As Captain he served also in the Central and Deer Street Stations. He will retain the rank of Captain, retired, and probably will be assigned to the Municipal Court Building.

Finda Wife With Throat Cut.

When Conrad E. Hill returned to his residence, 631 Tower Grove avenue, after an hour's absence yesterday, he found his wife, Mrs. Mary C. Hill, 42 years old, dead in a clothes closet, from a deep cut in the throat. A razor was in her hand. Police were told she had suffered with mental ailments.

with it. I don't understand this business of having private memorandums."

At this point Borah broke in on the colloquy, in which Sterling was being badly worsted, and announced: "The only question here is whether the question is proper. Senator Sterling knows the rules of evidence, and it should not be necessary to tell him that he cannot introduce the contents of a letter into the record by describing it in his questions." Sterling, with the air of a man who was glad to escape the subject, withdrew his question.

Booth Told of Letter.

Solicitor Booth, when he was on the stand several days ago, told of writing such a letter but testified that it was sent, not to Wheeler, but to Campbell's office in Montana. Sterling was not present at the hearing.

Booth testified that he had been charged with all Campbell's litigation. He testified that Wheeler's firm was employed by the state to investigate the business of his own employment. He said: "Mr. Campbell doesn't trust lawyers and when he hired one, he usually hired two or three to watch him."

Campbell had previously related in his own testimony, his unsatisfactory experiences with lawyers, and explained that he retained Wheeler because he wanted "a man who would stand up and fight."

mandated territories under your care have joined together in the great task of presenting this picture of your commonwealth of nations.

"The exhibition is thus the work of the whole empire, and it shows the craftsmanship and agricultural skill, the trading and transportation organization of all our peoples and all our territories."

It gives also a living picture of the history of the empire and its present structure. It will suggest to the world, I truly believe, that the most powerful agency of civilization has its heart set upon peaceful aims and the good of mankind."

Reply of King George.

In reply, the King said:

"The exhibition may be said to reveal to us the whole empire in little, containing within its 220 acres of ground a vivid model of the architecture, art and industry of all the races which come under the British flag."

"It represents to the world a graphic illustration of that spirit of free and tolerant co-operation which inspired peoples of different races and creeds, and ways of thought to unite in a single commonwealth and contribute their varying national gifts to one great end."

"This exhibition will enable us to take stock of the resources, actual and potential, of the empire as a whole and to consider whether these exist and how they can best be declared and utilized, to take counsel together as to how the peoples can co-operate to supply one another's needs and promote the national well-being."

"It stands for co-ordination of our scientific knowledge and common effort to overcome disease and to better the difficult conditions which still surround life in many parts of the empire."

Midnight Closing Rules Off.

Exhibition officials expect crowds of visitors to average 2,000,000 persons weekly. Such gaiety as has not been enjoyed since the World War is expected to be the daily and nightly thing in the heart of the empire, beginning today. Midnight closing rules affecting cafes, cabarets and other places of enjoyment are off, and hours every morning with music, laughter and merry-making.

Wembley Message Goes Around World in 90 Seconds.

By the Associated Press.

MONTREAL, April 23.—The official message of King George to the overseas dominions, in which he pronounced the British Empire exhibition open, girdled the earth in 90 seconds.

It was sent direct by telegraph from the exhibition to a cable office, thence by Imperial cable to Halifax, then over the Canadian Pacific telegraph Co.'s land lines to Banfield Creek, B. C. From there it was cabled to Sydney, Australia, relayed across that continent by land wires, and sent by cable to Durban, which relayed it to Cape Town, which in turn sent it back to Wembley, via the Azores.

The beginning of the message began to come in at Wembley just as the sending operator finished his work.

DR. BEHAGEN TO SERVE A YEAR IN WORKHOUSE

He Also Is Fined $500 by Jury Which Convicts Him of Practicing Medicine Without License.

TO BE TRIED ON FIVE SIMILAR CHARGES

Plea of Defendant's Lawyers That He Was Qualified Physician Ruled Out by the Court.

The maximum penalty for practicing medicine in Missouri without a license—a year in the workhouse and a fine of $500—was given Dr. Behagen yesterday by a jury in Judge Hochdoerfer's Court of Criminal Correction, which found him guilty of the charge. Trial of five similar charges is to follow.

The defense, as represented by four attorneys, sought to introduce evidence to prove Dr. Behagen was qualified in point of skill and experience to practice medicine and surgery, and said he had studied at Vienna under a noted eye specialist and had been graduated from the Chicago Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital. Several of his patients were on hand to testify his operations on them had improved their sight and prevented blindness. The court, however, ruled that the defendant's professional qualifications were irrelevant, the charge being merely that he was unlicensed to practice in Missouri.

Testimony for the State.

The prosecuting witness was George Behrens, 18 years old, of 5278 North Euclid avenue. He testified Dr. Behagen had treated him several times last December for ulcers of the eyes and had accepted fees of $200.

Dr. Behagen on the stand admitted he had no license, but asserted he needed none, as he was merely doing "house calls" for Dr. J. E. Mendelsohn, making appointments and "carrying out the doctor's orders." He said he had applied for a license to practice medicine, but his application had not been acted upon.

Since his arrest on March 8, last, Dr. Behagen has been in city jail, unable to furnish bond. On March 21 he offered to plead guilty to all six charges, providing his patient's consent would be a fine or reprimand, but his offer was rejected by the prosecuting attorney, Behagen asserted he is a British subject, but the British Consul investigated and reported he is a Dane.

Nature of One Other Charge.

One of the five remaining cases against Dr. Behagen is that in which Mrs. Viola Monke, 25, of 1962½ Wright street, accuses him of performing an operation on her eyes which resulted in her losing the sight of one eye. She asserted he used an ordinary sewing needle, but he says that it was a regular surgical instrument. She and her husband have each sued Dr. Behagen for $500 damages.

WOMAN MEMBER OF NEW DANISH LABOR CABINET

She Is Minister of Education—Only One Non-Socialist in Minority.

By the Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN, April 23.—Kirk Christian received Premier Stauning head of the new Labor Government of Denmark, at an audience today and accepted the Prime Minister's list of ministers, all of whom with the exception of Count Moltke, Foreign Minister, are members of the Danish Socialist party. Mrs. Nina Bang, a widely known economist, is minister of education, the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Denmark.

The Danish Labor cabinet holds a position similar to that of the British Labor Government, as the Labor party obtained only 35 percent of the votes cast at the elections.

BIGAMIST-WIFE SLAYER JUMPS TO HIS DEATH

Chicagoan, Who Killed Woman Because She Wouldn't Cook Breakfast, Breaks From Detectives.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, April 23.—James P. Trucci, alias James de Joy, confessed slayer of Anna de Joy, whom he married after deserting his wife and two children, plunged from a third-story window in the Detective Bureau today and fatally injured himself. He fell 15 feet from the sidewalk, his face crushed and several bones broken, and died in an ambulance on the way to the county hospital. Detectives were making ready to take his picture as he shovelled two of them out of his way, rushed to a window and plunged headlong through the glass to the street.

The confession attributed to Trucci, arrested late yesterday, solved the mystery uncovered when Boy Scouts, hunting material for a boat, lifted some old planks and uncovered Anna de Joy's body in the Forest River near Riverside Golf Club, April 2. The woman's throat was cut and her clenched hand held her right eye, torn from its socket. He said he killed her when she would not get up and cook breakfast for him. An old newspaper, placed over the body fixed the slaying date at Feb. 26.

Mrs. Thomas Kphike, mother of the slain woman, and her son, William, identified Trucci as the man who married Anna Kohnke.

WOULD KILL RATS BEFORE WRECKING OLD UNION MARKET

President Kinsey Advises Health Department to Act Immediately to Eliminate Rodents.

There are probably a great many rats in the old Union Market, which occupies the block bounded by Broadway, Sixth street, Morgan street and Lucas avenue, and President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, anticipating an exodus when the building is wrecked, has advised the Health Department to take immediate steps to eliminate the rodents.

Bids for the wrecking will be accepted by the Board of Public Service today and the actual work, it is expected, will be a matter of but a few weeks. On the site will be erected a modern municipal market and garage building to cost $1,350,000. The market to cost $1,000,000, will be paid for from the bond issue funds, and the two million garage floor will be paid for from general revenue.

SUMMER LAW COURSE PLANNED

Washington University to Offer Eight Courses in Six Weeks' Session.

To meet the needs of students working for bar examinations as well as students studying for a degree, Washington University will offer eight courses in the school of law during a six weeks' summer session. The regular faculty has been retained to give the work, but the school will be artificially cooled.

"Though this is the first summer session offered by Washington University, indications point to a large enrollment," said Dr. Frederic W. Shipley, director. "Inquiries are coming in, especially from Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, South-west Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Iowa."

Washington is the only school in Missouri offering summer law courses. It is one of 39 law schools in the United States that fully conform to the published recommendations of the American Bar Association with respect to legal education.

LOUISIANA WOMAN IS SHERIFF

Widow of Murdered Sheriff Wins Over Man in Election.

BATON ROUGE, La., April 23.—A woman, the first to be elected to such an office in Louisiana, today donned her six-shooter and other paraphernalia that goes to make up a Sheriff. She is Mrs. Eudora S. Day, who became Sheriff of East Baton Rouge Parish, following yesterday's election. Running on an independent and anti-Klax Klan ticket, she defeated Dr. Ed Young by a substantial majority.

Mrs. Day is a widow of three weeks. Her husband, Robert P. Day, was shot and killed by a negro desperado. He was Sheriff at the time and Gov. John M. Parker appointed his wife to fill the unexpired term until election.

POLICE BREAK DOWN BAUER CASE WITNESS

Boy Tells That Hoffman Ordered Car Painted Day After Murder Was Committed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Detectives investigating the murder of Mrs. Walter Bauer of Chelsea, Staten Island, March 25, yesterday broke down the story of another witness, who, according to police and District Attorney Fack, had been coached by Harry Hoffman before Hoffman was arrested in connection with the case.

The new witness is Harry Edkins, 17 years old, "reel boy" at the Palace Theater, where Hoffman operated the movie projection booth. Edkins was examined before the grand jury yesterday afternoon, but was said to have given no testimony of value.

Believing he had more information, detectives took him in hand later. He was left with his mother an hour or more and when the interrogation was resumed, broke down under her continuous pleadings to "tell the truth."

He said that on the day after Mrs. Bauer was killed, Hoffman told him Mrs. Hoffman had just telephoned to him that police suspected him. At that time, police said, Hoffman had not been brought into their investigation.

"Get Man to Paint Car."

"Hoffman said to me," Edkins continued, "You'd better go out and see if you can get a man to paint my automobile."

Edkins said he did as directed, but could not find a man.

"That same afternoon Hoffman told me he intended to have his hair cut. Ten days later he sent me out again to find a man to paint his car. I found a man who wanted $60 and told Hoffman. Hoffman had insisted that he see the car. He said a certain color in a certain way."

District Attorney Fack announced he had a new witness, who identified Hoffman's car as one he had seen near South avenue, Chelsea, both before and after the time Mrs. Bauer's body was found. This man was taken before the grand jury. It was intimated his identification of the car, a common make, rested on a broken wind shield.

As the result of an anonymous letter, Fack said he hoped to have another new and important witness before the grand jury today—a woman alleged to have been attacked by a man in a manner similar to the attack on Mrs. Katherine Campbell of St. George, on whose testimony the grand jury indicted Hoffman Monday on an assault charge.

Tortoise Shell Glasses Found.

Detectives found a pair of tortoise shell glasses in Hoffman's locker at the Palace Theater yesterday. He had not worn them after Mrs. Bauer was killed, police said. Similar glasses were worn by the man with whom Mrs. Bauer was last seen.

Mrs. Hoffman, for whom a subpoena had been issued, appeared voluntarily before the grand jury at noon, explaining to reporters she was "going to tell some of the good things" about her husband. She was questioned, it was said, about a report that she had asked a friend to tell some of the good things about her husband, and ask her to tell the girl not to make any false identification of anybody who might be arrested.

Fack refused to reveal what she had testified. When she left the grand jury room, the grand jury took up five letters alleged to have been written by Hoffman in jail. One was to his mother, another to his brother, David, asking him to "stiffen up Parker" (the friend whose sibling for Hoffman was broken down on the day this letter was written) and another to his lodge, asking him to "stiffen up Parker" (the friend whose sibling for Hoffman was broken down on the day this letter was written) and another to his lodge, asking him to "stiffen up Parker" (the friend whose sibling for Hoffman was broken down on the day this letter was written).

Violence Feared.

The grand jury will not complete its work before Saturday. Hoffman will be arraigned at New Brighton court after noon, when the court house to keep a watch on with homicide. If he should not be held, Fack will arraign him on the assault charge and ask $50,000 bail.

It was made known today that the authorities of Richmond County fear an attempt to do Hoffman violence. When he appeared at New Brighton court yesterday, eight detectives and six uniformed policemen were distributed about the court house to keep a watch on the crowd.

ARRESTED FOR DISPLAYING AMERICAN FLAG IN CUBA

American Merchant Breaks Law in Isle of Pines—U. S. Consulate Not Alarmed.

By the Associated Press.

HAVANA, April 23.—Aaron Keritsky, merchant, of American citizenship, was taken into custody at Nueva Gerona, Isle of Pines, last Saturday, for displaying a large American flag, according to reports received here today. Published reports said he and some other Americans unrolled the flag in the street, in order that American aviators flying over the Isle of Pines might see it.

At the American Consulate General here it was said today that Keritsky claimed he merely took the flag into the street to unroll it and, she what condition it was in. While reports described American residents in Nueva Gerona as much excited over the incident, at the consulate it was not regarded as important, and that if any charges were filed against Keritsky, he was inclined to pay a light fine and not press his side of the case. It is against Cuban law to display a foreign flag without displaying a Cuban flag at the same time.

3 Other Ex-Officials of Newfoundland Charged With Larceny of Government Funds.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., April 23.—Sir Richard Squires, former Premier of Newfoundland, was arrested yesterday, charged with larceny. The charge was based on the findings of a commission which recently investigated alleged irregularities under the Squires government, which resigned last July.

Dr. Alexander Campbell, who was Minister of Agriculture in the Squires Cabinet, also was arrested on similar charges, as were John Meany, former Government Liquor Controller, and Whitford McNeill, formerly a clerk in the Crown Lands Office. All were admitted to bail. Further arrests are probable, officials said.

The specific charge against Sir Richard was larceny of $20,000 of Government funds. Campbell was charged with larceny of $400, Meany with theft of $100,000 and McNeill with larceny of $30,000.

QUIET MAY DAY IN RUSSIA

Workers and Families to View Body of Lenin in Moscow.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 23.—May day will be celebrated in Russia this year by peaceful manifestations on the part of the civil population, instead of militant demonstrations as in the Red Army, as in the past. This may be taken, the Bolsheviks say, as symptomatic of the world's desire to convince the world of its peaceful intentions, and also as indicative of the tranquility prevailing in the country.

Hundreds of thousands of workers and their families are expected to march to the great improved wooden shrine in Red square, in which the body of Lenin is interred, and there pay homage to their revolutionary leader. Contrary to custom, no amnesties will be granted by the Government, but the sentences of those convicted of minor offenses will be commuted through special commissions. Two days will be given over to these observances, the Government having decided to allot the second day to the workers in compensation for the annulment of Annunciation day by the civil authorities.

It was held, Fack will arraign him on the assault charge and ask $50,000 bail.

It was made known today that the authorities of Richmond County fear an attempt to do Hoffman violence. When he appeared at New Brighton court yesterday, eight detectives and six uniformed policemen were distributed about the court house to keep a watch on the crowd.

SON PUBLISHERS LOSE RADIO ROYALTIES CASE

Court Rules Broadcasting of Copyrighted Music Is Not Public Performance.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., April 23.—A victory for broadcasting stations using musical numbers on which a copyright has been granted was won in the United States District Court here today when Judge Smith Hickenlooper dismissed a petition filed to halt the broadcasting of such numbers without paying the holder of the copyright. The suit was filed by Jerome N. Remick & Co., New York music publishers, against the American Automobile Accessories Co. of Cincinnati, a manufacturer of radio receiving sets and parts.

Judge Hickenlooper, in his opinion, said:

"Disseminate Intelligence.

"These radio stations are operated for the transmission through space of intelligence and music. Such a performance is undoubtedly maintained for the purpose of stimulating interest on the part of the public, for the purpose of advertising the receiving sets and instruments of defendants' manufacture, and to permit the hearing having reference to a reproduction of 'his songs broadcast."

"It also must be kept in mind that tained throughout the United States by those who have no direct connection with the manufacture or sale of radio equipment, solely for the advertising value of such broadcasting stations. An example of this is the station maintained by the United States Playing Card Co. in Cincinnati; other examples are those stations maintained by newspapers at various points."

Not Public Performance.

"In order to constitute a public performance in the sense in which we think Congress intended the words 'perform publicly or sell,' it is absolutely essential that there be an assemblage of persons, an audience so congregated for the purpose of hearing that which transpires at the place of amusement. We simply feel that the rendition of a copyrighted piece of music in the studio of a broadcast station, where the public are not admitted and cannot come, but are converted into sound waves that are received in the homes of owners of receiving sets, is no more a public performance than is the rendition of music which is a reproduction of copyrighted music."

NETTI'S SON FIGHTS DUEL

By the Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—In a duel with swords between Vincent Nitti, son of former Premier Nitti, and Giulio Francesconi, Nitti was painfully wounded in the right arm. The duel was the outgrowth of an article published by Francesconi in the Fascist newspaper Mezzo Giorno, which Nitti considered an insult to his father.

The duel lasted for 10 assaults, when Francesconi ran Nitti through the arm. Thereupon the surgeons in attendance stopped the fight.

THAW, HELD SANE, STILL IN ASYLUM; NEW TRIAL SOUGHT

Counsel for Evelyn Nesbit Granted Four Days to Prepare Arguments on Motion for Rehearing.

By the Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Although he was declared sane and fully capable of managing his affairs by a jury in Common Pleas Court last night, after seven hours' deliberation, Harry K. Thaw today is still in the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases, where he has been confined for the last seven years.
After the verdict had been brought in, William A. Gray, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, whose 73-year-old son was permitted to intervene in the trial, requested the usual four days in which to file a motion and ask for a new trial. The motion was granted and Judge Monaghan, before whom the case was heard, held Thaw in the custody of the court pending its disposition. No time was set for the hearing of the motion. Meanwhile, Thaw must remain in the asylum.
In announcing that he would ask for another trial, Gray said he also spoke for the hearing of the motion. Meanwhile, Thaw must remain in the asylum.
Thaw returned to the asylum shortly before midnight. He did not say whether he would go voluntarily to New York to answer the indictment charging him with an attack on Frederick Gump Jr., a Kansas City high school teacher, should he eventually gain his freedom. Former Judge John M. Patterson, his counsel, said the courts of Pennsylvania could take no cognizance of the New York indictment until new extradition papers were sent here.
Civil suit for $500,000 damages entered against Thaw by Gump's father was settled out of court last January.
Since he shot and killed Stanford White in New York, in June, 1906, Thaw has spent about 16 years in jails and asylums.
Thaw today moved from the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases to Patterson's office and, after conferring with the lawyer, went to the Ritz-Carlton to visit his mother. He turned with her but declined to discuss the trial with newspaper men.

Verdict Received in Silence.
Only a fair-sized crowd was in the courtroom when the jury, led by Joseph Plunkett, the aged foreman, filed in with its verdict at 10:20 p. m. Judge Monaghan had warned the spectators against any demonstration and the spectators received the verdict in silence. Thaw's friends, however, showed elation.
Thaw was committed to the Pennsylvania hospital in 1917, after he had been indicted in New York for the alleged whipping of Frederick Gump Jr. New York police were searching for him when he was found in a West Philadelphia apartment house with his throat cut. His family intervened to have him declared insane by a Philadelphia court, in which they were successful and he was committed to the asylum, despite the efforts of the New York authorities to extradite him.

FIGHT REPORTED AT HILL CREST
Stories Regarding Theft on Missouri Pacific Train Confusing on Actual Facts.
A report was made to St. Louis police this morning that robbers, caught in the act of looting a Missouri Pacific box car near Hill Crest, Mo., staged a revolver fight with special agents and the train crew and succeeded in escaping with $2000 worth of goods.
Hill Crest is 21 miles south of St. Louis.
Reports received at Missouri Pacific offices here up to now were confusing. However, the best available information as to the actual facts was this:
Box car thieves some time last night had thrown several cases of shoes and some harness from a freight car to the right of way. They had become frightened by approach of a passenger train and had fled, leaving the shoes and harness by the tracks and also a Chevrolet touring car.
Several special agents went down this morning to investigate.

RENARD IMPATIENT TO GO TO LEAVENWORTH

Requests Immediate Transfer Although Law Does Not Require Presence Until May 10.

Ray Renard, Egan gangster and convicted freight car robber, is in the city jail, waiting impatiently to be taken to Leavenworth Penitentiary. The law does not require his presence there until May 10, but Renard urged the United States Marshal's office to take him last night, and was disappointed when told that he must wait a few days, to be conveyed to prison with others. A report was circulated last night that he had started for the prison, but it was incorrect.

His term in Leavenworth is seven years, but his associates in the Egan gang seem to think they may see him back here within a few months.

They apprehend that Renard may come back as a Government witness in the downtown mail truck robbery case of April 2, 1933. Renard was one of six gangsters indicted recently in that case, two having been convicted previously. One of those convicted, "Whiskey" Doering, was killed in an affray while at liberty on an appeal bond.

Says He Was in Mexico.
At the time when he was indicted in the mail truck case, Renard was far from St. Louis—he says he was at the Tia Juana racetrack in Mexico—and there were reports that he might not return, and that he intended to jump his then outstanding bonds, $40,000, in the Federal Court in Springfield, Ill., in the Pochontas post office robbery case, and $7000 here in the "Moselle" freight robbery case. If Renard had let his bonds be forfeited, it would have been much harder for other gangsters to make bonds in future, and there were reports that his former associates were offering a reward for Renard's return, "dead or alive."

By returning to St. Louis Monday, Renard showed that he did not mean to jump his bond. He was "nicked up" by Department of Justice agents soon after he got back, under circumstances that looked suspiciously easy, and now the gang has a new cause of worry in the fear that Renard will "snitch."

Asks to Go to Prison.
As soon as he was placed in custody, Renard began talking about going to Leavenworth to start his 7-year term in the freight robbery case. When he was taken into Federal Court yesterday afternoon to be arraigned on his new indictment, he asked that he be taken to Leavenworth as quickly as possible. As eight other prisoners are due to be taken to Leavenworth, Renard may get his wish this week.

It was noted that Renard, while in the Marshal's office, was very fidgety, kept his back to the wall and watched the door closely. He talked volubly about the mail truck robbery charges as a police "frame-up," and said the reason he was willing to go to Leavenworth in the freight case was that he did not object to paying the penalty when the law had him "right." Federal officials refused to say whether there is any plan to use him as a witness in the mail robbery case. It is not believed that he can be brought to trial in that case, or in the one pending in Illinois, until he has served his 7-year sentence.

Take Haley's M-O for Your Stomach's Sake

Milk of Magnesia combined with pure Mineral Oil

Too much food, not enough exercise—that's the curse of modern civilization, the cause of acidosis and constipation which bring on most sickness. Acidosis and constipation go hand in hand. If your stomach's upset, if you feel bad in the morning, get up with that dark brown taste, belch, see black specks dancing before your eyes, stop at the first drug store you come to and ask for a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil. Haley's will fix you up in a hurry because it goes straight to the seat of the trouble. The milk of magnesia neutralizes the acids that form in the stomach and intestines and the mineral oil overcomes the constipation, ridding the body of the dangerous waste poisons. There is nothing about Haley's Magnesia-Oil to harm the youngest infant or the oldest adult. Non-habit forming, it contains no drugs or narcotics.

Start taking Haley's M-O tonight. You'll feel a lot better in the morning. All drug stores—trial size 35c, family size $1.00. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

STORM FORCES TC-3 BACK TO SCOTT FIELD

Big Dirigible Was on Way to San Antonio, Tex., and Had Passed Muskogee, Ok.

Officers at Scott Field, near St. Louis, were somewhat surprised when at 7 a. m. today the TC-3, big non-rigid dirigible, hovered over the field and prepared to land.

It was most unusual because the TC-3 was supposed to be in San Antonio, Tex., as an exhibit at the national balloon races there. It had left Scott Field at 7 a. m. yesterday and dispatches from Muskogee, Ok., had reported it leaving that field there at 4 p. m. yesterday, scheduled to arrive at San Antonio at 2 a. m. today.

Lieut. Elmer J. Rowling, commanding the ship and its crew of six men, soon explained. A severe electrical storm confronted the ship about 100 miles south of Muskogee and rather than face it and perhaps damage his ship, he had turned back.

That was all, but dispatches coming in from San Antonio and other points south expressed misgivings. San Antonio had heard nothing from the big ship, and points in the Muskogee vicinity reported that the ship was seen drifting in a peculiar course. Air officials at San Antonio feared the ship had met some mishap in the Oklahoma storm.

However, Maj. John A. Paegle, commanding Scott Field, declared the ship was in perfect condition. The lieutenant, he added, used good judgment in turning back when he faced a storm which might cause damage.

WOMAN SUES COUNTY; BOARD REVOKES ASSESSMENT BOOST

Equalization Body Desires to Avoid Appearance of Retaliation.

Fearful lest the public believe acted in retaliation, the St. Louis County Board of Equalization today rescinded its decision of yesterday to increase from $250 to $500 the assessment of property at Midland Heights of Mrs. Fred M. Gould, which was in controversy several months ago when her husband built a fence across Midland boulevard, claiming the highway was on his wife's property.

About the time the board was boosting the assessment yesterday Mrs. Gould filed suit against the county for $40,000 damages alleged to have resulted from illegal placing of a highway on her property. The board increased the assessment because of a statement made by Gould that the property was worth at least $10,000. Gould is an attorney.

It will be recalled that Gould presented a claim for $10,000 to the county. Presiding Judge Stanley of the County Court favored payment of the claim, but was outvoted by his two associates and the matter went no farther until the suit was filed yesterday.

TURNER REQUESTS CORRECTION Stolen Cash Register Not Found in Basement of Home.

Joseph Turner, former policeman, who is under sentence of two years in the penitentiary for burglary while on the police force, has requested correction of an account of his conviction in the Post-Dispatch last Friday, in which it was stated a stolen cash register had been found in the basement of his home at 2166 O'Fallon street.

Transcript of the testimony shows the register was found elsewhere, but quantities of cigars, candies and matches, answering description of stolen goods, were found in Turner's basement. At the trial Turner denied knowledge of the goods being in his basement, or of a store robbery for which he, another policeman and a civilian subsequently were indicted. Turner has filed notice of appeal from the conviction.

ARIZONA TO DISINFECT TRAIN PASSENGERS

Those From California to Arizona Affected—Through Passengers Must Stay on Trains.

By the Associated Press. PHOENIX, Ariz., April 23.—Inspection and disinfection of all railroad passengers from California, bound for Arizona points, will become effective April 28 as a further safeguard against spread of the foot and mouth disease to Arizona, under a proclamation issued by Gov. Hunt.

Under the plan of disinfecting Arizona-bound passengers, the State Health Board would establish fumigation stations at points of entry near the State boundary, and incoming California passengers would be subjected to the cleansing process at the station, it was said.

To Settle Disinfection Method.

Details as to the disinfection method were not completed last night. The Arizona-bound travelers, according to the proclamation, must submit to "such inspection and disinfection" as may be required by the board. The plan to disinfect passengers was proclaimed as a substitute measure to a recommendation offered at a State conference of business representatives that the railroads limit sale of tickets to persons who have obtained certificates from the Arizona Health Board, who were to be stationed in California.

Railroads in California selling tickets to Arizona points "shall notify all prospective purchasers of such tickets that the ticket is sold subject to regulations of the Arizona State Board of Health," the proclamation declared.

$10,000 Appropriated for Work.

Approval was given by the Chief Executive to the prevailing quarantine against California products and vehicular traffic, and another appropriation of $10,000 was declared to be expended in carrying out the terms of the quarantine relations.

Passengers entering Arizona on trains from California, the proclamation states, shall "submit to such inspection and disinfection of his person and baggage as may be required by the Arizona State Board of Health at such points as may be designated by it."

To Search All Trains.

"The carriers will be required to search all trains for persons who may be traveling without having purchased tickets, and detain them at some station outside of the State of Arizona," the proclamation said.

"Through passengers," for points east of Arizona, will not be permitted to leave the train while it is in Arizona territory, in order that "the infectious foot and mouth disease now prevalent in California may be prevented from spreading to the State of Arizona," according to the regulations of the State Board of Health, which were cited in the proclamation.

California Governor Protests

Against Desert Quarantine Line.

By the Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 23.—The fight against the foot-and-mouth disease among livestock in California has been placed in charge of the Federal Department of Agriculture at the request of State authorities. Dr. U. G. Houck, personal representative of Henry C. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, was designated to take charge of the work, with headquarters in Sacramento, and it was agreed by Gov. Richardson and Director G. H. Hecker of the State Department of Agriculture, that State veterinarians and inspectors, as well as all other State employees engaged in the efforts to eradicate the disease, would be placed under his supervision. Gov. Richardson telegraphed to Secretary Wallace a protest against the proposed establishment of a quarantine line along the western boundary of the Yuma Indian reservation, 10 miles from the Arizona border. This is desert country and affords no food or shelter for persons who might be held up by the quarantine regulations, the Governor declared. He also asserted that the quarantine on the Arizona line has "caused suffering enough without shoving the line 10 miles over the desert into California."

COURT TURNS DOWN SHANE

APPEAL ON INSANITY CHARGE

Holds Slayer of Mrs. Helen Alway Should Be Kept in City Sanitarium.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals yesterday refused to order the release of Hammie Shane from the City Sanitarium, where he has been incarcerated since he was acquitted last January of the murder of Mrs. Helen Alway, who, with her husband, Sel, was found shot to death in an apartment over their saloon, 1929 Hickory street, June 16 last.

Shane, a cousin of Alway, testified at the murder trial that he killed Mrs. Alway while trying to wrest a pistol from her after she had fatally shot her husband. The jury found he was insane at the time the crime was committed, on which finding the trial judge ordered him committed to the City Sanitarium.

At the hearing yesterday it was contended that Shane was sane at the time of the trial and is sane now. The Appellate Court, in denying his petition, held that there was another course than by habeas corpus to determine his mental condition. Judge Davies later explained that Shane had a fair trial in the murder case and therefore habeas corpus could not be resorted to as a method of appeal.

$10,000 VERDICT FOR GIRL, 14

Suit Grew Out of Death of Mother as Result of Injury.

A verdict of $10,000 damages in favor of Opal Quarrels, 14 years old, for the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Quarrels, was rendered yesterday by a jury in Circuit Judge Calhoun's court against the Schluter Manufacturing Co., 4116 North Broadway.

Mrs. Quarrels, who was employed at the plant of the company, was injured Oct. 18, 1929, when operating a machine used in cutting hand-dies for tin cups. Her left hand was cut and it was necessary to amputate it from which operation she died on Dec. 2, 1929. It was contended that the accident was due to the machine not functioning properly. Opal Quarrels lives at the Methodist Orphans' Home, 4385 Maryland avenue.

SAYS YOUNG PEOPLE MUST BE "CIVILIZED"

Former Gov. Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania Here to Speak on How to Reduce Immorality

Martin Brumbaugh, ex-Governor of Pennsylvania, arrived in St. Louis today and will deliver an address on "How Can We Lessen Immorality" before the Council of Jewish Women at Temple Shaare Emeth at 5 o'clock this evening. He is staying at Hotel Jefferson.

Since his retirement from public office, Brumbaugh has taken great interest in moral and educational problems. He believes, he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, that the world will not return to the so-called normalcy, to the pre-war conditions of 1914 and before. The world cannot be legislated into righteousness; there are already too many laws.

The solution of lawlessness as seen in periodical "crime waves" must be found with the younger generation, he said. Seventy-one per cent of persons now confined for crime are under voting age, he said, and until the young people are "civilized," lawlessness will flourish. Brumbaugh blamed the war as the chief cause of present disrespect for law, saying the war had exhibited to the young minds how the strong may conquer the weak. Leisure not properly used and shifting of moral education from the home fireside to the street corner or vulgar theater are other causes, he said. The remedy advocated by Brumbaugh is increased recreational facilities which will provide decent and inexpensive entertainment for the whole family. Public buildings, especially schools, should be put to greater use after school hours, he thinks.

Discussing politics, the former Governor said Coolidge and McAdoo were leading presidential candidates in Pennsylvania. Gov. Pinchot is not considered as a candidate and, besides, has lost favor through his attacks on Secretary Mellon. The Ku Klux Klan is not a factor, Gov. Raftis of Indiana has some strength. Senator Reed of Missouri is known only through the Republican press of Pennsylvania, and known unfavorably.

SUE TO OUST NEGROES FROM HOUSE ON LABADIE AVENUE

Property Owners in District Allege There Are Restrictions Against Its Invasion by Negroes

Suit to enjoin Charles H. Acklin and R. C. Jackson, negroes, from continuing to live in a house at 4800 Labadie avenue and to compel the present owner, Pearl G. Barnes, a so-called negro, to surrender the deed, was filed yesterday by 27 property owners of that district.

It is alleged the property is in a tract restricted against negroes. The tract lies between Cura and Taylor avenues on Labadie.

According to the petition the purpose of the restrictions was to protect the community involved from invasion by negroes and members of the Mongolian race. On Sept. 6, 1922, the property in controversy was sold to the present owner, she acquiring title from Frank R. Robinson. Aug. 1 last she rented the first floor to Acklin and on Sept. 10 Jackson moved in on the second floor. "To the great annoyance, discomfort and humiliation of plaintiffs and also resulting in depreciation in value of their surrounding property," the petition states.

DAVIS' POLITICS CONFUSED

Kansas Governor, Democrat, Asked to Make Republican Speech.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 22.—Over in Illinois it appears that some folks do not know that Gov. Jonathan M. Davis is a Democrat. The Governor received a letter from the secretary of the Middle West Luncheon Club of Springfield, Ill., asking him to stop there on his way to the Cleveland convention "to make a speech before the club."

The Governor replied he would be very glad to make the speech, but that he had no intention of going to any convention at Cleveland and doubted whether he could get in if he should happen to attend. He received a reply yesterday containing apologies for the thought that he might be a Republican, and urgently requesting him to stop at Springfield on his way to the New York convention, and deliver his address at that time.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. P. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, swollen neck, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, ungood feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for laxatives—now and then just keep them fit, 15c and 30c.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Dr. P. M. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. P. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in a safe system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no good feeling, all out of sorts, indigestive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—and then jump to keep them fit, 10c and 30c.

PINCHOT SWAMPED IN PENNSYLVANIA VOTE

Returns Show He Failed of Election as Delegate-at-Large by 217,049.

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Returns from yesterday's primary election in Pennsylvania today showed additional gains for Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Norristown publisher, over Gov. Pinchot for election as delegate at large to the Republican national convention.

The vote in 5158 districts out of 5119 gave Strassburger 400,520, Pinchot, 183,481. Strassburger's total lead was 217,049. The Governor was leading in some rural counties. Strassburger was endorsed by the Republican organization.

The other six candidates who were endorsed by the State organization—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon; United States Senator Pepper and Reed, William S. Vare, W. Harry Baker, Chairman of the State Committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Price Martin—appeared, on the basis of the incomplete returns, to have run according to plans of the leaders. Although none of the Republican delegates-at-large are pledged to any candidate, all are believed to favor the nomination of President Coolidge.

The majority against the Governor in Philadelphia was attributed largely to the withdrawal of the support of the organization led by Congressman Vare. He announced last Saturday, after the Governor previously had been endorsed by the Republican State organization as one of its candidates, that he could not support the executive because of his suggestion that Francis J. Heney be employed as counsel for the Senate committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The Governor, in reply, declared the liquor question was the issue that prompted Vare's action. Strassburger, to whom Vare turned his support, declared the issue was "loyalty to President Coolidge." Republicans elected 79 delegates to the national convention, seven at large and two from each congressional district; the Democrats, an equal number of district delegates; and also eight at-large, with a half-vote each. There were ten candidates for the Republican delegate-at-large places and seventeen Democrats for the eight places as delegates-at-large. No presidential preferences were indicated in the Democratic delegate elections.

Gov. Pinchot, in a statement, declared it appeared the "wets" have elected Strassburger and have beaten me," and asserted "this vote does not represent the conscience and heart of Pennsylvania." The Governor said the vote "is merely proof that the old alliance between liquor and gang politics in Pennsylvania remains in full force and effect."

Johnson Beaten by $7,000 in New Jersey.

By the Associated Press. NEWARK, N. J., April 23.—President Coolidge yesterday overwhelmed Senator Johnson of California in the New Jersey preferential primary. With 328 election districts still unreported, the President has a lead of more than $7,000 votes, which is being increased by belated returns.

President Coolidge captured the entire slate of 31 Republican national convention delegates; seven of whom were elected-at-large and 24 by districts. The Coolidge delegates-at-large were leading their Johnson opponents by approximately 70,000, while in the congressional districts, the candidates were well ahead in every contest, although there were divisions within the Coolidge forces, and the Antislavery League opposed two of the Coolidge delegates-at-large. Returns from 203 election districts out of 3614 in the State gave for presidential preference: Coolidge 96,656; Johnson 11,438.

United States Senator Edge and former Governor Stokes, whose candidacy for delegates-at-large was opposed by the Antislavery League, each received upward of 1000 votes more than former Senator Frelinghuysen, whom the league supported.

Edge supporters saw in the Antislavery League hostility the possible beginning of a fight on Edge for renomination in September.

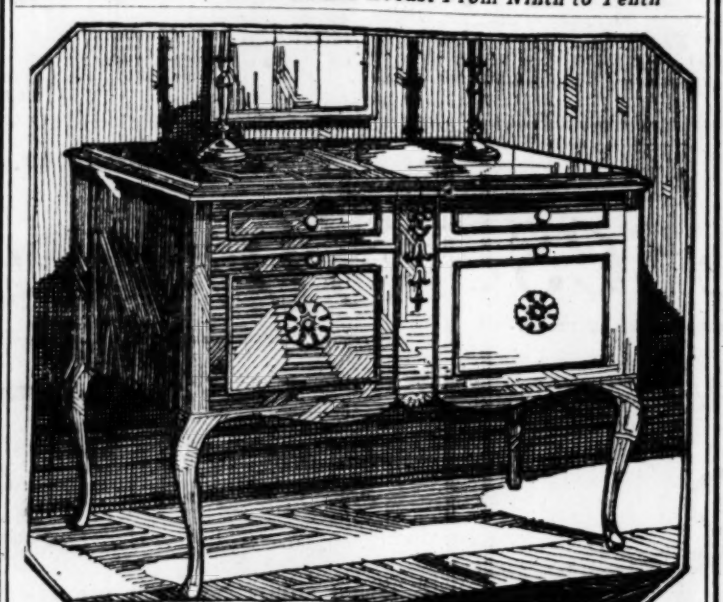

Gov. George S. Silzer was endorsed by the Democrats for the presidential nomination. Twenty-four district delegates and eight delegates-at-large, the latter with a half vote each, all of whom were pledged to the Governor, were chosen.

Delaware G. O. P. Convention Declares for Coolidge.

By the Associated Press. CINCINNATI, O., April 23.—Charles Sterling Millard has been appointed general manager of the "Big Four" Railway, Cincinnati Northern Railroad, Muncie Belt Northern Railroad, Evansville, Indianapolis & Terre Haute Railway, and Louisville & Jefferson Bridge and Railroad. He succeeds Earl M. Railroad. He succeeds Earl M. Railroad.

Contin. resigned. Millard, a graduate of Yale, entered the service of the Big Four in 1897 as assistant in the engineering corps.

Poincare's Note on Reparations IS CONCILIATORY

Barthou That He Will Make Arrangements to Put Experts' Plan Into Effect.

COMMISSION WAITS FOR ALLIED REPLIES

French Members Get Instructions How to Deal With Delicate Points as They Arise.

BRUSSELS, April 22.—Belgium's reply to the Reparation Commission's communication with regard to the experts' report is a full and complete acceptance of the report, according to the semi-official independence Belge. The newspaper adds that Premier Poincare of France, Premier Theunis of Belgium and Paul Hymans, head of the Belgian representation on the commission, will meet soon to discuss the reparations question.

PARIS, April 22.—The Reparation Commission has decided to wait until the answers of all the allied Governments concerning the expert committee's reports have been received before meeting again. The replies had not arrived today and it is possible the commission will not convene until the beginning of next week.

The French delegation is holding the reply of its Government and will not communicate it to the commission's secretariat until the others are received.

It is stated that Premier Poincare's conference with Louis Barthou yesterday was in the latter's capacity as chief of the French delegation and not as president of the commission. It is understood that the experts' plan is being discussed previously in more general terms, thus providing the French delegates with instructions as to how to act regarding the delicate points that may be raised in the experts' plan into force.

The versions of Premier Poincare's letter to M. Barthou on the experts' reports as published in the foreign press are inaccurate, according to the semi-official Havas agency.

The letter, in reality, is divided into three parts. The first is a formal acknowledgement of the receipt of the report, which Poincare characterizes as a remarkable and painstaking work, fully answering the object assigned to the authors.

In the second part Poincare declares that it is for the Reparation Commission, acting within the limits of its powers, to take the decision called for by the report.

In conclusion the Premier says that as soon as the commission has reached its decision he will come to an arrangement with the interested Governments, so far as they are concerned, and in the most conciliatory spirit, with a view to putting the experts' plan into effect.

GERMANS PREPARE RAIL CONTROL PLAN

By SAMUEL SPEWACK, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BERLIN, April 22.—German leaders assigned to put the reparations experts' plan into effect are moving with amazing speed. They are doing more than merely accepting general principles. The Post-Dispatch and New York World learn that German suggestions for a settlement extend even to a compromise with Premier Poincare's hesitation to give up the Ruhr railroads as security for payment.

Railway Minister Oeser, who heads the committee studying the experts' suggestions about railroads, is willing to concede appointment of French military observers to official capacities on the Ruhr railways. This goes beyond the experts' report.

Oeser has worked out the plan the Germans will employ if, as seems apparent from Paris dispatches, the French insist they must have securities as a substitute for giving up their own administrative control of the lines. Under Oeser's scheme the railroad system will be divided into four districts. German direction will maintain sovereignty over the entire system. But an official role will be created for French officers in the Ruhr district, so that without interfering with the administration the French will be in position to maintain "military supervision."

President Baucher of the Union of German Industries, speaking far from the Government in its favor for peace, Baucher says he

DAUGHERTY SAYS HE RODE THE WATER
WAGON WHILE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Never in Little Green House on K Street, He Declares; Nothing Improper in H Street Place; 'The Shack' Recreation Spot.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Harry M. Daugherty in a statement issued here last night, declared that "President Harding was nominated and elected the freest man that ever stepped across the threshold of the White House."
"All the cheap, sensational talk by a partisan committee and others in regard to the manner in which President Harding was nominated and elected is false,"
the former Attorney-General declared. "There was no ill discussion at the convention or during the Harding campaign. No promises were made by him to any man, nor did I make any promises for him, and nobody was authorized to make any promises, and if they were made they never came to our ears."

The assertion with reference to the late President's nomination course of a defense of his position in connection with the senatorial investigations, and he touched explicitly upon a number of subjects to which witnesses have alluded in the hearings of his position.

"The accomplishments of the Department of Justice," he declared, "will be one of the great issues upon which the Republican party will win the next election.
That in one of the reasons for attacks that have been made upon me."

"Words Put Into Their Mouths." Discussing the conduct of the hearings, he charged that "no opportunity had been afforded to cross-examine the star witnesses," and he added that "no opportunity will be afforded now, although I have statements and affidavits from those who were procured as witnesses testifying to the truth of the facts, and that they were corruptly influenced to tell untruthful stories of a character infamous to me."

Taking up some of the testimony,
Daugherty said:
"The matter of drinking has been freely referred to. I never was a drinking man, and, shortly after the previous election, I was generally known as a teetotaler.
It being my official duty to enforce the prohibition laws, I refrained from taking a drink of anything including, and from that day since I have not drunk. Nobody ever brought any liquor to my house and I never served liquor in my house.
My conduct and my associates before and since I have been in Washington will compare favorably with that of any other man who conducts himself so as to command the respect of the public."

"The testimony regarding the Wright-Martin stock is false and the witnesses who testified thereto lied, and Brookhart, my 'impartial'
judge and juror who called attention to it, made a misstatement when he reiterated the story for substantially $100,000 shares of Wright-Martin stock, at I think, $5 per share, long before I became Attorney-General. The company

sees no difficulty in raising 300-000,000 gold marks a year ($72-000,000) out of mortgages on big business, as the experts plan.

President Schacht, of the Reichsbank, who is working on details connected with establishment of the proposed gold bank, also is optimistic.

So far German objections to the experts' report are concentrated on the proposed tobacco monopoly, on the ground it means an expense for the Government. German experts have agreed to pay for the tobacco direct taxation and say it will produce cash without expensive bureaucratic apparatus.

This section of German opinion is not disturbed by pre-election propaganda.
At present the election amounts to a publicistic on the experts' report. Except for the communists, all parties are for acceptance.
However, the election must be disposed of before Germany will express publicly what the men devising Germany's new reparations acceptance say privately.

I could sell today for the amount of those who have been most active in criticizing me.

His Friend, Jesse Smith.

"Jesse Smith was a young man whom my brother and I assisted in business in our home town in Ohio.
He became a successful business man and was active in the campaign of President Harding and was helpful to us both. He has been dead about a year. Four doctors and the undertaker stand ready to testify as to the cause of his mind giving way which ended in his taking his own life. I never knew Jesse Smith to do a dishonest thing. He was with me only part of the time, and while I was not familiar with all his acts, I do not believe he was capable of doing a dishonest thing. I never knew he had an office in the Department of Justice, although since his death
I understand that he frequently made use of a room occupied by others for the purpose of looking after some private and legitimate matters for me, which I did not have time to attend to myself. I knew nothing about his domestic affairs except that I knew he was wounded upon him and the treatment he had received at the hands of a woman."

improper purpose. Nothing ever

France evacuates the Ruhr. Great Britain, it is understood, will be willing to agree to such new sancputting them into effect.

The nature of these measures is the subject of wide speculation and until MacDonald brings the problem formally before his Cabinet no definite statement regarding France-British action can be obtained.

The whole question of the experts' report and how it will be made effective still appears obscure, and it is not quite clear what the next stage will be, according to British officials. It is thought that the principal object is to get the report into working order as quickly as possible. However, British officials expect considerable delay because of the approaching French and German elections.

HAWES SUBMITS BRIEFS TO SUPPORT HIS WET BILLS

St. Louisan Would Increase Alcoholic Content of Beverages to the Point of Intoxication.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Arguing that the eighteenth amendment only prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages and that the Volstead act goes to an extreme when it places the limit at less than one-half of 1 per cent for non-intoxicating beverages, Representative Harry B.
Hawes (Dem.) of St. Louis, yesterday filed two briefs with the House Judiciary Committee, which is hearing arguments on 13 measures for modification of the prohibition law, in support of his bills for changes in the prohibition law.

The committee at the close of yesterday's session, deferred further hearings until April 25.
The bills before the committee provide for increasing the legal alcoholic content of beverages to 2.75 per cent.

One brief of Hawes concerns increasing the alcoholic content of beverages to the point of intoxication; the other concerns his measures for repeal of the provision in the Volstead act limiting physicians in the number of prescriptions.
Hawes did not argue against the identical bills, merely pointing out that he thought his bills were better. He said that the question of question of alcoholic content must be decided finally by the Supreme Court.

At yesterday's hearing, the Rev.
Roland W. Sawyer, a Congregational minister, said he was a member of the Massachusetts Legislature, said the "jolly and amiable exhalation of the old days" has departed and left an undesirable substitute in its place. He charged that those who were responsible for the Volstead act were not keeping faith with those who voted for the eighteenth amendment.
Those who wanted the amendment,
he asserted, did not contemplate
such rigid enforcement as the act provides.

took healthful recreation. Nothing ever took place there that was not wholesome or correct in every way.

never made any proposition of any

has been accommodated by having his case none under a promise by those in control of the Wheeler committee that he would furnish sensational and dishonest testimony and newspaper headlines. I appointed him, however, that if he disappeared from the Wheeler committee, he would be in the face of opposition. Later I was importuned to re-employ him and did so with great reluctance in order that he might complete the procuring of testimony in support of the committee. He was not re-employed, and I discharged him finally.
That in one of the reasons for complaints because he has been indicted."

Daugherty asserted that he "was told by those in high position, not the President, however, that if he would resign as Attorney-General, voluntarily, the resolution of inquiry introduced by Senator Wheeler (Dem.) of Montana would not be pressed. This he would not do, he added, because it would be a constructive admission of guilt of whispered charges.
Senator Wheeler, he charged, in pressing the inquiry, was carrying out a public promise made to the
I. W. W. in Montana that, if he elected to the Senate, he would "drive the Attorney-General from

Guard Who Told of Prison Privileges Was Suspended.
By the Associated Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., April 22.—J. E.
Wilkins, guard at the Atlanta Federal penitentiary, who told the Daugherty investigating committee that he had seen a man, Remus, Cincinnati millionaire, had been accorded "special privileges" at the prison, was suspended from duty last week, prison officials declared yesterday.

Remus, who is employed in the penitentiary library, is allowed to take his meals in the hospital, as Wilkins stated. Deputy Warden
L. J. Fletcher stated, but the same privilege is accorded other prisoners who do similar work, he said.
Remus was convicted of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Any way, the sort of thing we see here can't go on. The world is going to see impatience with the democracy which it fought to make responsible. It is going to see the United States if we have four more years of bloc government. There'll be a reaction in England when the marvelous honeymoon of Mr. MacDonald over. Something will happen in France when it wakes up to the fact that no one really won the war. Meanwhile, I want to see Moscow before deciding what is the best place to watch the political developments of the next few years.

fate of the special committee investigating the Internal Revenue resolution will be decided May 6.

The resolution, introduced by Sen-countants, will be taken up then and, after it has been disposed of, the Senate will be asked to con-

St. Louisans Measure Protects Interstate Shipment From Theft.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The bill introduced in the House on Dec. 20 by Representative L. C.
Dyer (Rep.) of St. Louis, for the protection of interstate shipment of goods from theft was passed yesterday by the House.

Under the present law thefts of goods in interstate transit have been held to be outside the jurisdiction of the Federal courts, even though the interstate character of the shipment was unquestioned because the goods had been stolen from places not mentioned in the present law. The Dyer bill specifically mentions interstate shipments prima facie evidence in case of prosecutions.

politicians of the National Capital are talking about.

WHAT impresses me most, everywhere is the weakness of governments. President Coolidge in Washington, under pressure from Congress, has to remodel his Cabinet. But M. Poincare suffers worse at the hands of his Parliament. An adverse vote compels him to cast aside 94 per cent of his Cabinet and invite some of his opponents to help him make a new one. England and a millions of governments, and everybody is so glad to get someone to govern that there is a universal determination to make Mr. MacDonald's rule last at least for some months. Critics of his policy, like Mr. Lloyd George, are listened to with impatience; almost hoisted off the floor of the House of Commons. Both the old parties feel themselves too weak to resist the task Mr. MacDonald is enjoying, so they bespeak the greatest tolerance for him.

In Germany progress in government has been from weak to weaker to weaker. If you ask any unprejudiced observer here whether Germany made an honest effort to pay the reparations due France and the other allies, he will tell you
"No." "But," he will add, "any government which tried to pay that bill would have fallen." The mark is stabilized now. You get for a $100,000,000 marks, or it may be 41,000,000,000 marks. One billion marks circulates as the equivalent of one of the new stable rentenmarks.

You feel shocked, cheated, the first time you receive a handful of these billion-mark notes in exchange for good yellow-backed American paper. But you find that a billion marks will buy a little more than a 25-cent piece would at home, so you get used to
it. "Well," you ask, "if Germany could stabilize the mark now after all the trouble in the Ruhr, why could it not have done so long ago?" The unprejudiced observer replies "Probably it could have. But any Government that tried to do so would have fallen."
The big industrialists would have clubbed it on the head. And if it had succeeded in doing so, it would reparations, the big industrialists and the people together would have drawn it and quartered it.

Germany politically, they say here, is going both left and right;
that is, the center parties will be appearing in the next elections, which means that there will be a liberal in the next session of the Reichstag than in the next session of the our own Jolly Congress. The right which will probably govern is rather Fascist than royalist.
The time who are honest and Clements to Succeed Babler.

As has been known for some of the State Committee, has obnumber of districts to virtually assure his election as national com-

The Tenth District convention adopted a resolution denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, although the organization was not named, and elected delegates to the national convention who had previously been agreed upon by organization leaders in the city and county.

The anti-Klan resolution was adopted without debate both by the Resolutions Committee and by the convention. It was written by Louis P. Aloe, former President of the Board of Aldermen. Circuit Clerk John Schmoll, who was chairman of the Resolutions Com-deemed more suitable.

last night at the pre-convention dinner of the Women's National Democratic Club that "the lifting of the lid in Washington" would bring back to the Democratic party the 3,500,000 voters necessary to its victory unless their division was

Gov. Smith was booed for the Democratic nomination for the who predicted that he probably would have the support of the entire Pennsylvania delegation.

REASONABLE DOUBT.
By Robert Welles Ritchie.

THE place was a little country town not a hundred miles from New York but so provincial that the good people there looked upon the 10 or a dozen New York reporters attending the trial as wicked men who might well corrupt community morals if not watched.

One of the little town's citizens was being tried for murder there in the old red brick courthouse. All the evidence was circumstantial, for by a strange mischance the only eyewitness to the actual shooting had been a half-witted youth; what he saw so wore on the frayed rags of his mind that, before the trial was set, he lost the last shreds of reason and had to be put away in an asylum.

Wherefore the trial was an issue between the defendant's assertion of a regrettable fatality entailed by his mishandling of a shotgun and the State's effort to establish premeditation, a motive and recon-

The location is in the downtown central business section of the city, being within short walking distance of the leading hotels, convention hall, and department stores of Kansas City. There is erected on this plot of ground a five-story brick hotel and theatre building, photograph of which is shown above. The hotel building is known as the Hotel Edwards, and is under lease for a term expiring September 30, 1926, at a net annual rental of $14,500. The theatre building, which is known as the Missouri Theatre, is under lease for a term expiring March 31, 1932, at an average gross annual rental of $37,765.28.

The District Attorney was cocksure of a conviction. He had a score of witnesses to testify that, hearing the sound of two shots at supper time one night, they had run into the kitchen of the defendant's home to find a dying man on the floor, the defendant bending over him in an effort to assuage the flow of blood from two gunshot wounds in the abdomen, and the shotgun itself lying in three parts; stock on the table, barrels on a chair and the locking grip on the floor.

Each of these neighbor witnesses was shown two red shells—both exploded. Each glibly testified that those were the shells they had seen sticking in the barrels of the shotgun. It was apparent that everybody who ran to the kitchen that night pulled the fatal shells far enough out of their chambers to see they were red in color.

The defendant's story was that, returning from a hunting trip, he had started to take his gun apart to clean it, when both shells were exploded by the "breaking" of the barrels at the grip.

A city lawyer from New York was defendant's counsel. His cross-examination of the State's witnesses was perfunctory, with just a slight emphasis put upon the possibility of animus against his client existing in the bosoms of those neighbors. He made no effort to contravene their testimony as to the scattered parts of the shotgun.

When the State closed, it looked dark for the defendant. Darker yet when the city lawyer opened his defense by putting on several "character witnesses"—usually conceived a desperate last recourse in lack of stronger support.

Then the city lawyer suddenly called to the stand a little Hebrew tailor who had not appeared in the trial before. This witness declared he had been one of the crowd in the kitchen the night of the killing. Yes, he had seen So-and-So and So-and-So—naming the State's witnesses who had been there. Yes, he had seen the shotgun scattered in its parts as described.

Defendant's lawyer put his hand in his pocket and brought out two shotgun shells—both exploded and a vivid blue in color.

"Did you ever see these shells before?" handing them over to the witness. The courtroom was in a breathless suspense.

"Yes," answered the little tailor. "They were the shells I saw sticking in the barrels of the gun."

"Take the witness," shortly commanded the city lawyer. Nor could all the hammering and roaring of the District Attorney shake the tailor's dogged insistence that the shells in the gun were the blue ones entered in evidence by defendant's attorney and not the red ones identified by everybody else.

The jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. "Reasonable doubt" saved a man from the chair.

UNDERWOOD CALLS INSURANCE BONUS BILL A FRAUD

"I Shall Vote Against Any Measure Presented Here," He Says, "but if One Is Paid It Should Be Cash."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Senator Underwood (Dem.) of Alabama in a speech in the Senate today renewed the attack on the bonus bill. He advocated a pension law, but declared it impossible to compensate the former soldiers for their service.

"You dishonor these protectors of our nation by offering them dirty dollars," Underwood said, "or by proposing to give them these insurance policies."

"The man who fought on the first line of battle will have to carry this country in the next 20 years. You very cunningly fixed this bonus so that it won't be paid for 20 years, and propose that these men, instead of you, will have to pay for it."

"You're adding under this legislation an enormous tax to an already heavy burden. The doctors disagree as to the cost of the bill. One estimate says it will cost $2,200,000. The Treasury actuary, Mr. McCoy, says it will cost $3,600,000, and the Treasury is probably right."

Amendments Taken Up.
Taking up amendments, the Senate voted down, 41 to 28, a proposal by Smith of South Carolina to limit the redoubt rates chargeable on the insurance certificates.

An amendment offered by Senator Brookhart (Rep.) of Iowa proposing to give the Veterans' Bureau sole control over loans allowed on insurance policies was defeated, 42 to 35.

The Senate then approved, 42 to 35, an amendment by Senator Harrison (Dem.) of Mississippi, to require veterans from paying compound interest to the Treasury upon the redemption of an hypothecated certificate.

Without a record vote a motion by Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Massachusetts to hold up payments of the $50 in cash allowed the committee bill until July 1, 1935, was adopted. Senator Walsh explained his purpose was to delay these payments until after the next session of Congress when an attempt would be made to amend the bill, if enacted into law, to make full cash payments an option. Under the committee bill, these payments could be made after nine months from the date of enactment of the measure into law.

To Vote Late Today.
The Senate met two hours earlier than usual, and pressed toward a vote late today. Each speaker was limited to 15 minutes.

The principal controversy centered on the amendment for inclusion in the bill of a cash option provision, offered by Senator Copeland (Dem.) of New York.

Although drafted by Democratic members of the Finance Committee, the amendment was not submitted by them, leaders said, because they feared its adoption would prevent enactment of a bonus bill. Republican leaders had said they would vote to sustain a presidential veto if the bill carried.

Keeping Millions Free From Colds and La Grippe

W. H. HILL'S LIFE WORK

Colds cause more illness than any other human ailment. Realizing this 50 years ago, W. H. Hill determined to develop a quick-acting scientifically correct cold and la grippe remedy.

Years of research brought success. Mr. Hill discovered a most remarkable formula. He backed it with energy, faith, integrity and a name that meant "satisfaction or money back."

Today more than 4,000,000 families—one-fifth of America's population—use and recommend Hill's Cascara Bromide Quinine.

The formula has never been changed in a quarter century. What Hill's has done for millions, it can do for you. Demand red box bearing Mr. Hill's portrait. All drug stores, 30 cents.

the cash option, but would vote to override a veto on the insurance plan.

The pending bill, reported to the Senate by the Finance Committee substantially as passed by the House, would allow cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation.

'PAT' MARR CONVICTED, THREE AIDS FREED

Oil Promoter Found Guilty on One of 20 Counts of Misuse of Mails.

By the Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Ark., April 23.—"Pat" Marr, oil field promoter, was found guilty in Federal District Court here today on city count and not guilty on 19 other counts of an indictment charging misuse of the mails.

W. T. Earnest, W. S. Erkins and George White, codefendants with Marr, were found not guilty on all the counts in the indictment.

The jury had deliberated two hours.

Judge F. A. Youmans announced Marr would be sentenced tomorrow. Counsel for Marr said an appeal would be filed. The counts on which Marr was found not guilty included the conspiracy count. The other 19 counts charged the sending of letters, alleged to have contained fraudulent statements, to various persons.

Marr, rated as one of the youngest operators in the Smackover and El Dorado oil fields, and the several co-defendants, were placed on trial two weeks ago.

By Garland, advertising copy writer for Marr and co-defendant, who pleaded guilty to the first 19 counts of the indictment, was fined $590, which he paid.

H. M. (Hub) Mason, indicted for using the mails to defraud, pleaded guilty today and was fined $250.

penation and 25-year endowment insurance policies to others.

The Copeland amendment calls for a cash payment in full to veterans who prefer it to the insurance. Such a proposal would require a larger immediate outlay by the Government than the straight insurance proposition and the amendment provided for issuance of $1,500,000,000 bonds under the second Liberty loan act to take care of the payments.

Advocates of the bonus have taken a poll which they say indicates that the insurance bill will pass without the cash option.

Underwood Against Any Bonus.

"A price must be paid for everything worth having," Senator Underwood said. "That is true of government—the most essential factor in civilization. You pay in loyalty, in service, as well as in taxes. The 'bond' every citizen is born under is carried in that section of the Constitution providing that Congress has the power to raise and maintain armies. The duty cannot be measured in money."

"I want it distinctly understood that I shall vote against any bonus measure presented here. It would be a reflection on the service given by my son."

"Although opposed to any bonus," he continued, "I feel that if one is to be paid, it should be an honest bonus, paid in cash."

A proposal that holders of tax-exempt securities pay the cost of the soldier bonus by voluntarily foregoing their incomes from this source for four years was made by Senator Smith (Dem.), South Carolina.

"We have been hearing of the pure patriotism of these bondholders," he said, "here's a chance for them to show it."

Copeland Defends His Plan.

"I have been booed and hissed by the rich presenting the cash option amendment," Copeland said. "I don't think there was a New York paper that did not criticize me for it. But there is hardly a bank or business firm in New York that every year does not give its employees a cash bonus."

Senator Caraway (Dem.) of Arkansas, declared the American Legion lobbyists here, "but I don't believe the majority of members of that organization know what this bill provides. We are just giving the soldiers a due bill which they can collect 20 years from now if they live."

Extravagance as Damaging as Corruption, Says Borah

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A smashing attack on the proposed soldier bonus legislation by Senator Borah (Rep.) of Idaho, accompanied by a suggestion that a third party may arise because the present parties refuse to disregard expedience in the expenditure of Government funds was the outstanding feature of the debate in the Senate yesterday over the bonus.

Borah pictured Washington as shamefully cowering under the imputations of corruption. Extravagance in government affairs, he said, was as damaging as corruption. He charged that what is being really planned in Washington is a reduction of few millions in taxes, but an increase of billions in expenditures.

He did not dwell on the justification for the bonus, confining himself to its economic effect and said the service men would feel it more heavily in the future than anyone now in the Senate. The Senator drew a gloomy picture of the rising tide of expenditures, which threatens the very life of the republic, he said, unless checked. It was for this reason, he added, that party lines had become weak.

A Delightful Effect for Children's Clothes

THERE is nothing that produces such a delightful effect as Linit, or gives such a soft, pliable finish.

Linit makes even ordinary cotton fabrics look and feel like linen. That is why all modern mothers starch with Linit, the remarkable new starch discovery.

Because Linit remains thin and free-running like water, it penetrates every thread of the fabric and helps strengthen it, thus preventing wear and increasing the life of the material.

Important to You

USE Linit according to directions, and, unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much farther than the old-fashioned kinds of starch—and why it is easier to iron with Linit.

Go to your grocer, ask for a 10c package of Linit, and begin to use it for all fabrics. If Linit is not the most remarkable starch you ever used—your money will be refunded.

Don't Squeeze Blackheads—Dissolve Them

Squeezing and pinching out blackheads make the pores large and cause irritation. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of calomel powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash off and you'll be surprised to see that every blackhead has disappeared, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition.

Good Health and Happy Old Age

THE chief concern of elderly people is their health, and that is best assured by regular daily bowel movement. There is no truth, however, in the notion that because you are old you need a "strong physic." In fact, just because you are old a mild laxative is better for you. The trouble with purges and cathartics and physics is that they shock the system and weaken it and make the muscles of digestion flabby. Dr. G. H. Brown, V. S., of Frederic, Wis., nearly wrecked his stomach with purgatives. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin restored his health, as it did Mrs. J. S. Etheridge's, of Milledgeville, Ga.

Does Not Gripe

You can be sure of satisfactory evacuations every day if you will take a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin at night when you retire. You will not need to take it very long as a few doses will soon encourage the bowels to act for themselves. The popularity of this wonderful family remedy has become so great that it is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Because of its mildness and freedom from griping it is especially ideal for the extremes of ages, for children and for elderly people.

Effective at Small Cost

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. The formula is on the package, and the cost less than a cent a dose. Take it when you feel heavy, sleep poorly, have headache or night cramps, for these are all symptoms of constipation. Give it to the children when they are restless, feverish or have a cold. Syrup Pepsin will keep you and the family free from constipation, a condition that lowers the vitality 25 per cent and raises the blood pressure 28 per cent. Freedom from constipation lessens the pain of kidney trouble, neuritis and rheumatism.

POLITICS PREVENTS TEXTILE WAGE CUT IN NEW ENGLAND

Industry Submits to Workers Because Butler, Coolidge Manager, Wants Votes for Senate.

OPERATORS 'FIGHTING FOR EXISTENCE'

Reduction Said to Be Only Salvation Due to Inroads of Southern and British Manufacturers.

BOSTON, April 22.—Most of the textile workers in the New England cotton mills—numbering between 100,000 and 200,000—are working on half-time schedules. Many who are not working half time are not working at all.

The manufacturers say they are in a quandary from which they can see no escape except wage cuts. The men in the industry, the campaign manager of President Coolidge is William M. Butler, known as the New Bedford cotton mill magnate. His influence probably is at least as powerful as that of any other man in the industry. That is not all. Butler wants to be United States Senator to succeed David I. Walsh of Massachusetts. He has not said so, but the fact is generally known. Butler will have a hard enough time without strikes in the cotton mills, to surmount his corporation connections in a contest with Walsh. According to the directory of directors in the city of Boston and vicinity, Butler is an officer in 14 concerns.

It is conceivable that Butler might sacrifice his own political ambitions to business interests, but even his political opponents do not expect him to sacrifice the interests of Coolidge on the altar of his personal fortunes.

Astute observers, therefore, both of politics and industry in Massachusetts, venture that the restraining hand of Butler may have something to do with the fact the wage cuts have been made in the New England textile mills.

Industry Fighting for Life. This is going on while, in the words of a man probably known more than any other from the manufacturers' standpoint about the cotton mill situation, the industry in New England is fighting for its life.

This man would not permit the use of his name, but his connection with the industry is official. He sees only one possible escape for the mill owners—wage cuts. Yet he denied there has been any concerted action or intent by cotton-mill owners to increase working hours or to reduce wage schedules.

"Individual sentiment," he said, "among the mill owners is strong for wages reductions, not only to keep the wheels turning, but to enable the workers to earn enough for bread and butter while awaiting a turn for the better."

Only 50 Per Cent Normal. He admitted the situation had become so serious that cotton-mill production in New England for months has been at most no more than 50 per cent of normal.

The mill workers, he said, in common with the owners, are in their present trouble, not only because of the competition of cheap labor in the Southern textile mills, but because immense quantities of fine English textiles are being imported and sold here at prices lower than those for which they can be produced here.

"The tariff," he said, "has got to be raised."

New England, according to Thomas J. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, "is not alone in having textile mills shut down or working slack time. The same conditions exist everywhere and they are worse in the South, where the textile industry is practically at a standstill."

How to care for Dull Hair

Just washing it doesn't clean it, it only makes it look worse. It is what a difference in the appearance a little bling makes! Like linen, hair requires something more than soap and water to make it really beautiful. If you honestly want your hair to be beautiful, you must use Golden Gint Shampoo. It gives the hair a natural radiance truly beautiful, a long-lived brightness that lasts between shampoos, a delicate color-appeal quickly gained in your own parlour. You'll never know how really well your hair can look until you've had a Golden Gint Shampoo. Try one, 25¢ at all drug stores.

Government Costs Less Here in St. Louis

St. Louis, according to Federal census figures, has the lowest per capita cost of government of twelve cities of 500,000 or more population.

Medium and high-grade upholstered furniture costs less in St. Louis because it is manufactured here at the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Co., Fourth and St. Charles, and sold direct. Bedroom and dining-room furniture are also modestly priced at their retail store.

Gone!
that in-the-dishpan
Look

Nobody would choose kitchen soap
for toilet soap ~yet you use kitchen soap for an hour and a half every day in the dishpan . .

You'd never admit that you are over particular about your toilet soap, but of course you wouldn't use kitchen soap to wash your hands! Nobody would.

Yet you wash your dishes with kitchen soap—you put your hands in the suds of coarse strong soap and keep them there an hour and a half every day! Much longer than you spend washing your hands in the good toilet soap you buy!

No wonder dishwashing came to be a bugbear. Your nice soft hands all red and scratchy!

You don't have to put up with this coarsening of your hands any longer. Just use Lux for washing your dishes. It has the same soothing effect on your skin as fine toilet soap.

YOU CAN GET RID OF THAT IN-THE-DISHPAN LOOK

The outer skin of your hands is almost as sensitive to harsh soap as a fine fabric. Nature has her own way of keeping it soft and smooth with natural oils hidden just under the surface.

The pure gentle Lux suds are as easy on your hands as fine toilet soap

These beautifying oils dry out in strong suds of kitchen soap. Your hands sting and then turn rough and red. They just cry out that they've been three times a day in the dishpan.

With Lux you can get rid of that in-the-dishpan look. There are no harsh ingredients in Lux to dry out the natural beautifying oils of your hands—it protects these oils. It keeps your hands soft and smooth.

JUST ONE TEASPOONFUL TO
THE DISHPAN

A teaspoonful to the dishpan is all you need. You can get enough suds from one teaspoonful of Lux to do all the breakfast or the lunch dishes; the dinner dishes may take two.

Your dishes come out so shining clean that you really needn't wipe them. You do not fear soapy marks on dishes washed in Lux.

Try washing your dishes in Lux today. You can buy Lux in the regular size or in the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

WILL DIRECT LAW ENFORCEMENT INQUIRY

THOMAS T. FAUNTLEROY.

FAUNTLEROY NAMED AID BY THE GRAND JURY

Lawyer to Investigate Prosecutors' Offices and Practices of Professional Bondsmen.

Thomas T. Fauntleroy will meet with the grand jury tomorrow, before beginning his work of conducting the grand jury's inquiry into the offices of the Circuit Attorney and Prosecuting Attorney, and into the practices of professional bondsmen in the criminal courts. He was selected yesterday by the grand jury for this work, following Circuit Judge Hamilton's order for such an inquiry.

The previous grand jury, following the publication by the Globe-Democrat of charges of official neglect and improper disposition of cases by the two prosecuting offices, made an inquiry into the Circuit Attorney's office, without the aid of special counsel. It reported that it examined the cases which were the subject of charges and found no substantial ground for criticism of Circuit Attorney Siderer. No inquiry into the Prosecuting Attorney's office was made.

In the present inquiry Fauntleroy will have the position of Assistant Circuit Attorney, having been named to that position by Siderer at the grand jury's request. Both Siderer and Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer expressed satisfaction with the selection of Fauntleroy.

Fauntleroy is a member of the law firm of Abbott, Fauntleroy, Cullen & Edwards, with offices in the Commercial Building. He is a Republican. He resides at 5716 Enright avenue. He has practiced law in St. Louis since 1896. As special master for the Frisco Railroad in 1916, Fauntleroy auctioned off the company's properties for $45,700, netting him a fee of approximately $45,000. In addition, he had received $10,000 a year salary as special master for three years. Another large fee obtained by Fauntleroy was one of $35,000 for his services in settling the Hargadine-McKittick Dry Goods Co. receivership in 1919.

30,000 HAVANA WORKERS ON SYMPATHETIC STRIKE

23,000 Tobacco Men Included as Unions Walk Out for Dock Workers.

By the Associated Press. HAVANA, April 23.—Thirty thousand union workers, including 23,000 cigar and cigarette makers, were idle in Havana yesterday. They are supporting the striking dock workers. Street car men and taxicab and bus drivers have abandoned their posts and joined the strikers. Nails, tacks and broken glass on the streets made the driving of private automobiles hazardous.

No ice was delivered; no newspapers were published except the three English language papers; the drivers of brewery wagons quit, and few men were willing to deliver gasoline to the filling stations, and thereby both beer and gasoline went up in price.

The dispute at issue hangs largely on recognition of the union and of its rules and regulations as to handling cargoes. The steamship men's committee told the president they would not deal with the union, while the union representatives declared the men were equally as firm in their stand. The president's conferences thus far have accomplished nothing.

Brownies Return After Losing 6 of 7 Games; Trip A Series of Misfortunes

Batters Helpless With Men on Bases, Ken Williams' Services Are Lost, Star Pitcher Does Disappearing Act and Sister Falls Into Batting Slump and Pitchers Disappoint.

By Dent McKimming,

If it is true that one waxes strong under adversity, the Browns' new manager, George Siler, should develop into a veritable Napoleon of baseball, for on his first road trip under his management the club met with a most disheartening series of reverses. They returned to their home ball yard this morning after having lost six games out of seven on the road.

If the team ever gets going at its normal speed, Siler will consider his job a snap, for in these days of six successive defeats he has had to cope with every imaginable difficulty after the first two of the season. His team was constantly on the wrong end of the score. The batters did not hit with men on bases. The fielders bobbled on critical moments. The star slugger, Ken Williams, had to be sent home because of an injured back. The club's star pitcher, Frank Ellerbe, played as good ball as either Bobby Jones or Willie Kamm, the third sackers for the opposing teams. Fellow like George Severide, Tobin, McManus and almost all the pitchers were at fault.

Siler himself, about whom grave doubts were entertained at the season's opening, betrayed no weakness in the field and batted wonderfully well in the first four games. For some reason his hitting fell off in the Detroit series. He obtained only one hit and one run in 12 times at bat. At Chicago he obtained eight hits in 13 times at bat.

At the plate his difficulty appeared to be in putting power behind his swing sufficient to drive the ball through the infield. He met the ball squarely except in very rare instances and this may be taken as proof that his batting eye is all right.

Training Trip Was Wrong. The fact that the team failed to hit consistently on its first trip gives emphasis to the fact that they must meet a higher class of competition in spring training games. The White Sox had been looking at good pitching from the Giants before they tackled the Browns, and the Detroit Tigers had engaged in a series with Cleveland and strong class A teams in preparation for the opening of the season. In the series at Detroit, the teams showed plainly that the losing streak was causing nervousness. Then it was that the fielding broke down and the defense generally weakened. The squeeze play and the double steal were successful against them. However, they fought on and in the final game made a ninth-inning stand which brought three runs and threw a scare into the Tigers. Elam Vandiger and Dave Danforth are ready to pitch the open-

Cards Open First Road Campaign At Chicago Today

Jeff Pfeffer and Vic Keen to Pitch—Rickeymen Lost 5 of 8 Games at Home.

By Herman Wecke.

OF THE Post-Dispatch Staff. CHICAGO, April 23.—The Cardinals arrived this morning to officially open the National League season with the Cubs here this afternoon. The Rickeymen won three of the eight games played at home, losing three of the four battles with the Pirates. The Cubs in the meantime played on the road and captured four and dropped a like number, being defeated in three of four engagements with the Reds. One of the early favorites for the National League flag.

For this afternoon's game Manager Rickey will without a doubt pick Jeff Pfeffer, the big right-hander, and one of the two hurlers who have been called upon to go the route this season. Pfeffer was defeated, 4 to 2, by the Pirates last Saturday, dropping the decision when Maraville tripled with two on and two out in the ninth inning. Vic Keen, who stopped the Cardinals with three runs and nine hits in the St. Louis series, will likely be picked by Bill Killefer to do hill duty in today's local inaugural.

In the opening series of the season with the Cardinals at St. Louis, the Cubs batted at a terrific clip, piling up an average of better than 3.00. However, against the Cincinnati pitching the clubbing of the Browns fell off.

Rickey's Pitching Weak. Weak pitching has been the chief fault with the St. Louis club this season. That is evinced by the fact that in six of the eight battles Rickey has been called upon to use two or more pitchers. In the seven games played this year Cardinals pitchers have been found for a total of 26 runs, an average of exactly seven a contest.

While the opposition has averaged seven markers a contest, the Cardinals have put over four or five in each game. This shows that it is the pitching and not the offense of the team that is at fault. However, with Vernon Clemens again able to take up the duties behind the plate, Manager Rickey expects the Knot Hurlers to start on a winning spurt. An experienced catcher behind the plate is a mighty big help to a faltering pitching staff.

Can't Be Explained.

AND yet Wise Counselor, who really turned but one unusual performance in his 2-year-old form, has been running neck-and-neck with Sarazen in the future betting on the Derby. The fact seems to suggest that form books might just as well be left unprinted, as far as the general public is concerned. The public it appears, bets and molds the odds on other circumstances than past performances. Otherwise, how is one to account for the fact that Wise Counselor, besides being practically even up with Sarazen, is so much shorter in price than Mad Play, now 15 to 1, who was running over Wise Counselor at the end of their big race, the one from which Wise Counselor's popularity is supposed to have been derived.

We might amend the scriptural

Wray's Column

Real Form.

THE annual "getting down" of the family plate on the Derby is now proceeding. By way of proving that differences of opinion make horse-racing it may be observed that at least 20 of the 147 eligibles are being consistently supported in the books and others are getting casual attention from the long-range shooters.

These differences of opinion are the more remarkable, in view of the fact that the form, as set forth last year, contains seemingly indubitable evidence that another Man of War is in the field, in Sarazen. The surprising thing about it all is that this horse has not been played more heavily than he has, and remains rather a bookmaker's choice than the public favorite.

An Almost Unequaled Record.

ONE look at his table of past performances explains it. It shows, in connection with his winning 10 races from horses of his own age and older, at all distances up to a mile, an lightning fast and muddy tracks carrying weight from 91 to 127 pounds. The following interesting facts:

He was never extended in any race.

No horse was closer to him at the finish than one and one-half lengths.

His average margin of victory was 3 1/2 lengths.

His first race was 7 to 5; and the worst 1 to 10. The average price against him for 10 starts was 1 to 4.

Of the 40 calls, showing his position at various stages of each of his 10 races, all but three showed him first.

Of the three other calls one was fifth, in getting away from the barrier in his first start.

The other two were first and second—the first two calls of his seventh race.

In eight of 10 races he was off first and was never headed at any stage of the race.

If there is anything in the form of the other 146 eligibles to even compare with this record, it is limited to sporadic efforts by this or that contender, and is not to be found in the consistent work of any rival.

Not Interested, Is Firpo's Reply To Tex Rickard

Pampas Bull Still Hopeful of Being a Film Star—Promoter After Will Match.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, April 23.—Luis Firpo declared today that he was not interested in any of the new proposals advanced by Tex Rickard, American fight promoter, and that he had refused to listen to Juan Horns, Rickard's agent here on the subject of re-entering the ring.

Firpo is still hopeful of becoming a motion-picture actor, but the American film company which recently made him an offer insists on the condition that he announce his return to the boxing game.

The heavy-weight champion at present is busy selling American automobiles, for which he holds an agency here, and says he is doing a good business.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Tex Rickard today renewed his efforts to influence Luis Angel Firpo to abandon his present determination to retire from the ring and to match the giant Argentine with June or July, to determine a challenger for Jack Dempsey in a title bout next September.

The promoter did not reveal the steps he had taken, but intimated further inducements would be placed before Firpo, who recently refused to listen to Rickard's latest advances.

"I am still confident Firpo will abandon his idea about retiring and make another effort to fight the heavyweight title," said Rickard.

Rickard watched Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, work out this afternoon at Madison Square Garden. Romero is slated to make his American debut May 9 at Madison Square Garden, probably with Floyd Johnson as an opponent.

Argentine Poloist Wins.

BUENOS AIRES, April 23.—Mills, crack player of the Argentine polo team, was drawn from the team for the reasons and will be captain.

Tilden to Defend Clay Court Title In Tourney Here

National Champion Telegraphs His Entry and That of His Partner, Wiener.

OTHER STARS TO APPEAR.

By Davison Obeart.

Local tennis enthusiasts will have the opportunity of seeing William T. Tilden II, the world's leading player, in action on the courts of the Triple A Club here during the week of July 7. According to a telegram received by Roland M. Hoer, chairman of the Tournament Committee, Tilden will play the singles event of the national clay court championship and in the doubles with his youthful protégé, Andy Wiener.

Tilden will defend his title in the coming clay court event, as he won the singles in the tournament held last year in Indianapolis.

Since 1918 Tilden has played in four national clay court tournaments. In his initial event in Chicago, in 1918 Tilden defeated William M. Johnston, the Californian and Davis cup star, in the deciding round. Johnston reversed the order by winning from Tilden in the clay court finals in 1919, which also took place in Chicago.

Defeated Shimizu for Title.

Owing to his trips abroad in 1920 and 1921, Tilden did not participate in the championship. He returned to play, however, in the 1922 tournament at Indianapolis, which he won, defeating Zensho Shimizu, the Japanese star, in the final round. Although taking part in the doubles event in these tournaments, he has never won the title with any of his partners.

With Tilden's entry in hand the local committees in charge of the clay court tournament are certain of having two of the world's greatest tennis players participate, as William C. Norton, the former South African star, is now residing in this city, having recently established a business connection. Norton and Tilden hold the doubles championship of the United States, which is played on grass courts, and last year was held in Boston.

Kinsleys to Compete Here.

Another entry expected in the near future is that of the Kinsey brothers, Howard and Robert, of San Francisco. This combination ranks third in the national doubles title. They are the present holders of the national clay court doubles title, as if they enter the event will have both the singles and doubles champions entered to defend their titles.

Wise Counsellor In Fine Workout; Critics Routed

Charges That Derby Favorite Was Being "Babied" Disproved by His Workout.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—Three Derby candidates, Wise Counsellor, Inver and Quivero, worked over the mile route in about the same notch, 1:44, today. A cold wind was blowing out of the Northwest and it was far from comfortable for work-watches; but the Derby candidates could not miss their work days and accordingly were given their constitutional.

Wise Counsellor galloped his mile with the greatest ease, the boy having a strong hold of him all the way. Trainer Ward instructed the boy, who had Derby weight up, to work every quarter in about 13 seconds. The first part of the journey Wise Counsellor was going too fast, so Warden "batted" the boy down from the half mile on to the finish.

The fractional time of Wise Counsellor's trial was: Quarter, 24.2-5; half, 49.3-5; three-quarters, 1:16.1-5, and the mile in 1:44.

The colt was not distressed in the least at the end of the journey and cooled out well. He probably will receive another fast workout before being shipped to Baltimore next Saturday.

Trainer's Work Criticized.

His condition is satisfactory to Trainer Ward, regardless of many critics who hold that Wise Counsellor has been "babied" and has not had enough real work to fit him properly for a race.

Worthmore, the stable companion of Wise Counsellor, who has been entered in all the 2-year-old stakes with the son of Mentor, also was asked to go three-quarters this morning. The son of Thunderer went about his task with much "pop." He stepped the first quarter in 24.2-5, the half in 49 and the three-quarters in 1:17. He was fighting for his head all the way and could undoubtedly have gone around 1:13 if he had been called upon for his best.

Inver Still a "Maiden."

Inver, a chestnut colt by Trompe La Mort-Miss Inver, owned by A. Barkley of Philadelphia, and being trained at the Downs by William Martin, showed equally as good a trial as Wise Counsellor. Inver will leave with the Martin stable for Pimlico next Saturday, and will make his first start of the year in the Preakness Stakes. If his showing in that race should warrant it, he will be returned to Louisville to start in the Derby. Inver's fractional time was: Quarter, 24.1-5; half, 48.4-5; three-quarters, 1m 17.1-5; mile, 1m 44s.

Quivero An Improved Horse.

Quivero, Jefferson Livingston's dependence for the Derby, is a much improved colt since he came here from New Orleans where he raced last winter. Quivero is being trained by Al Kirby, who says he never saw such an improvement in a horse as in Quivero, since being shipped here from New Orleans a month ago. Quivero's time in the half mile was 22.5-5 and three-quarters in 1m 14.2-5, seven-eighths in 1m 28.2-5, and mile in 1m 44s.

The Audley Farm's Derby eligible, Frankman and Lord Martin, worked a fast five-eighths. The clockers caught the pair a half in 49.1-5 and five-eighths in 1m 22.5-5.

Ho Hick, a Derby eligible in the stable of R. P. Marshall, Pittsburgh attorney, being trained by the veteran Jim McKinney, showed a creditable three-quarters when he stepped the first quarter in 24s, half in 49.4-5 and three-quarters in 1m 18s.

Gorget, a Derby eligible owned by W. H. Whitehouse, who races under the nom de course of the Cincinnati stable, worked a half in 54s.

RODNEY PETERS AGAIN QUALIFIES TO SKATE IN TWO-MILE FINAL

Rodney Peters will again represent St. Louis in a world championship roller skating event. The local flyer won the right last night at the Palladium to compete next Monday night in the championship final of the races being conducted under the auspices of the Professional Skaters' Association to decide the two-mile championship.

Peters' victory last night was recorded in the second qualifying heat of the series. He won the race by a brilliant sprint during the last three laps, nosing out Roland Cloni, a former champion, who also put on a spectacular burst of speed as the contest neared the finish. Cloni landed second place while third position went to Leon Flake of Port Worth. The winner's time was 6m 21s.

Peters also captured the first trial heat, covering the mile in 3m 5.4-10s. Flake finished second in this race, while third place went to Cliff Howard of Los Angeles. Cloni skated to a dead heat with Al Cookson of St. Louis in the second trial heat. The time was 3m flat. Ross Wheatley of Washington, Pa., finished third.

TWO CHALLENGERS OF DUNDEE ARE TURNED DOWN BY COMMISSION

NEW YORK, April 23.—Two challengers for the junior lightweight crown of Johnny Dundee appeared before the State Athletic Commission yesterday to post forfeit money to bind a title match with the champion, but the commission turned deaf ears to their proposals. Dundee defended his title in December and under the rules he has six months in which to preserve his crown before he need jeopardize it. Jack Bernstein of Yonkers and Eddie Wagner of Philadelphia were the challengers.

Leo P. Flynn, manager of Dave Shade, Pacific Coast welterweight, posted a forfeit check of $2500 with the commission to bind a title match with Mickey Walker, welterweight champion. Indianapolis flyweight, was granted permission to break his contract with his manager, Frank Daugherty, since the latter also agreed to the cancellation.

Wichita Banker Convicted.

By the Associated Press.
WICHITA, Kan., April 22.—John N. Richardson, former president of the defunct American State Bank of Wichita, was found guilty today of a charge of accepting deposits when the institution was insolvent. The jury returned a verdict of guilty on all nine counts on which he was tried. The law provides a maximum penalty for each count of a fine not to exceed $5000, or a penitentiary sentence of from one to five years, or both.

Inter-community Bureau for Labor

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Ore., April 22.—Establishment of an inter-community bureau under the American open shop conference plan, with headquarters in Salt Lake City, was voted today by a group representing 22 states west of the Mississippi. The bureau is to act as a clearing house for employees and to keep employers advised as to the labor condition and building situation throughout the country.

The truck ran out of gasoline, and when the robbers could not secure a supply from Untermyer's gardener they abandoned the truck, and fled with the carload of liquor.

DEMOCRATS LINE UP BEHIND TAX BILL OF SIMMONS

Minority Report Submitted to Senate Would Abandon All Excise Levies, Held Merely War Emergency.

MELLON SCHEDULE CALLED DEFECTIVE

Proposal Made to Leave Collection of the Estate Taxes to States—Higher Surtax Advocated.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Characterizing the Mellon tax plan as "unscientific" and "vitaly affecting" the "basic principle of progressive income taxation," minority leaders of the Senate Finance Committee have set forth a declaration of the Democratic stand on the revenue bill and submitted the report of their proposed rate structure and scheme of levying Federal imposts.

The report was submitted to the Senate yesterday by Senator Jones of New Mexico and includes the normal and surtax rates prepared by Senator Simmons of North Carolina and already made public. It was prepared by Senator Jones and is signed by all of the Democratic members of the committee, including Simmons, Jones, Gerry, Rhode Island; Reed, Missouri; Walsh, Massachusetts; Harrison, Mississippi and King of Utah.

In addition to the rate scheme written by Chairman Simmons, the report shows the Democrats committed to some pronounced changes in the bill reported from the Finance Committee, which is the Mellon bill with some slight changes. These changes are suggested rather than outlined, and will be made in the form of amendments on the floor as consideration of the bill proceeds.

Oppose All Excise Taxes.
A declaration in opposition to all excise taxes, such as are included in the Mellon bill, is included. This would include the tax on telephone and telegraph messages and on radio outfits. The Democratic opposition is based on the ground that they were levied to raise war revenue and that the time for their imposition is now passed.

The straight 14 per cent tax on corporation incomes is included in the Finance Committee bill and is attacked on the ground that it "ignores the principles of a graduated tax in proportion to real ability to pay" and it is proposed to substitute some form of graduated tax. The estate tax proposal of Finance Committee and of the House bill is criticized and in lieu the minority proposes to leave the collection of estate taxes to the States, and for purposes of Federal taxation to tax the income of the beneficiaries. The minority calls for full and complete publicity of all tax returns, saying, "It is inconceivable that any controversy exists between the Government and a taxpayer should be decided in star chamber proceedings."

The minority will therefore, propose an amendment to the bill which will provide that all proceedings, records and evidence in connection therewith shall be made public.

$3,000,000 Gain Claimed.

The report constitutes an argument in favor of the Democratic plan and one aiming to dissipate those advanced by Secretary Mellon in favor of his own proposal. It is claimed for the Democratic plan that it will result in a net gain in revenue over what the Mellon plan would bring of $2,000,000. It assumes its normal rates would result in a loss of $3,000,000 as compared with the Mellon plan and a gain in the surtaxes of $41,000,000 or the net gain of $3,000,000.

The report recapitulates the structure of the Simmons report showing the normal tax rate would be 2 per cent on the first $4000 of income, 4 per cent on the next $4000 and 6 per cent on the remainder of the net income.

The Mellon bill would tax 2 per cent on incomes up to $4000 and 6 per cent beyond that.

The surtaxes commence on incomes above $10,000, at 1 per cent, progressing upward until it is 39 per cent on incomes between $200,000 and $500,000, and 40 per cent beyond $50,000.

The basic difference between the minority bill and that of the Senate Finance Committee (Mellon bill), as explained by the report, is that it makes the larger reductions in the smaller brackets and increases the tax upon the larger incomes above the rates fixed by the Mellon plan.

Treasury Arguments Denied.
The arguments made by the Treasury that the high rates lessen revenue, increase tax evasion, render capital timid and send it out of speculative enterprise into tax exempt securities is flatly denied, and the denial is supported by spirited arguments.

"The Democratic minority," the report says, "in insisting upon higher surtaxes than proposed by the majority, is not imbued with any desire or purpose to 'soak the rich,' but profoundly believes that invisible wealth, the prosperous and those with real ability to pay should bear a greater part of the burdens of the Government.

"The minority," the report continues, "proposes to reduce the present surtax of 30 per cent to 25 per cent on incomes above $200,000 and to a maximum of 40 per cent on incomes above $500,000, not because of any supposed deterrent effect on large business enterprise, but because we earnestly believe that all taxpayers are entitled to a substantial reduction whenever the financial condition of the Government will permit."

A Financial Talk to the Readers of the Post-Dispatch

The Specialized Business of Bond Buying

No profession in this Age of Specialization requires a more exhaustive technical knowledge or a broader experience than that of successful bond buying.

During the past decade the number of securities has increased enormously. The average investor is bewildered when he considers the multiplicity of Government, State, Railroad, Public Service, Corporation, Real Estate and Industrial Bonds, with their varying rates of interest and fluctuating market prices.

He cannot possibly know which will best suit his particular purpose; he has no definite information—or very little—on which to base a decision.

The Liberty Loan Campaigns taught thousands of people the investment value of bonds in general. But they failed to teach the public that certain issues are far from being wise investments. Buyers of bonds, especially those of moderate means, are INVESTORS. They have no wish to speculate. They want SAFETY with as large as possible return from their money.

If you have money to invest and are without the expert knowledge necessary to make a wise choice, do the sensible thing. Consult someone whose business it is to know investment values. Any of the reputable Investment Houses, Banks or Trust Companies advertising in the Post-Dispatch will be pleased to give you full information and sound advice.

Buy your bonds through them. All have on their staffs men who make a specialty of this highly specialized business and know the FACTS about each issue.

BREAD

A Powerful Story of Today
By CHARLES G. NORRIS
(Copyright, 1924.)

CHAPTER SIX

"N O, Mama, I won't leave it to you! I've got eyes in my head and I see how hard you have to struggle. We're always behind as it is—pestered by bills and the tradespeople. Why, this very afternoon we didn't have a cent in the house—not even a copper—and you had to borrow a dime from Mildred Carpenter to buy bread! Just think of it! We didn't have money enough for bread!"

"But, dearie, I've got Miss Loughborough's check in my purse."

"Yes, and we owe 10 times its amount! We're running steadily behind. I don't see anything better ahead. It's going to be this way year after year, always falling a little more and a little more behind, until—until, well—until people won't trust us any more."

"Perhaps we could cut down a bit somewhere, Janny."

"Oh, Mama, don't talk nonsense! I'm going to work—that's all there is about it."

Jeannette knew that no opposition from her mother would alter her purpose. Where her mind was made up, her mother invariably capitulated. It had been so for a long time, and Jeannette, at least, was aware of it. As she foresaw the full measure of her mother's distress when she put her decision into effect, she came and knelt beside her chair, gathered the tired figure in its absurd flannelette nightgown in her arms and kissed the thin silky hair where it parted and showed the paper white skin of her scalp. Mrs. Sturgis bent her head against her daughter's shoulder, while the tears trickled down her nose and fell upon the girl's bare arm. Jeannette murmured consolingly but her mother refused to be comforted, indicating her disapproval by firm little shakes of her head which she managed now and then between watery sniffles.

There were finally many kisses between them and many loving assurances. The girl promised to do nothing without careful consideration, and they would all three discuss the proposition from every angle in the morning. When they had said a last good-night and the girl had gone to her room, Mrs. Sturgis still sat on under the hissing gas jet with the red, torn shawl about her shoulders, the comforter across her knees. The tears dried on her face, and for a long time she stared fixedly before her, her lips moving unconsciously with her thoughts.

The little suite of rooms she had known so intimately for 12 long years grew still; the chill of the dead of night crept in; Jeannette's light went out. Mrs. Sturgis reached for the canvas-covered ledger on the table beside her and began a rapid calculation of figures on its last page. For a long time she stared at the result, then rose deliberately and went into her room. There she cautiously pulled an old trunk from the wall, unlocked its lid, raised a dilapidated tray, and knelt down. In the bottom was an old papier-mache box, battered and scratched, with rubbed corners. She opened this and began carefully to examine its contents. There was the old brooch pin Ralph had given her after the first concert they attended together, and there were her mother's coral earrings and necklace, and the little silver buckles Jeannette had worn on her first baby shoes. There were some other trinkets; a stud, Ralph's collapsible gold pencil, a French five-franc piece, a scarfpin from whose setting the stone was missing. Tucked into a faded leather photograph case was a sheaf of folded pawn tickets. That was the way her rings had gone, and the diamond pin, Ralph's jeweled cuff links and the gold head of her father's ebony cane. She picked up the pair of silver buckles and examined them in the palm of her hand; presently she added the gold brooch and the collapsible pencil before she put back the contents of the trunk and locked it. For some moments she stood in the center of her room, gently jangling these ornaments together. Then her eye traveled to her bureau; slowly she approached it, and one after another lifted the gold chains she wore during the day. These she disengaged from her eyeglasses and watch and wrapped them with the buckles and the brooch in a bit of tissue paper pulled from a lower drawer. But still she did not seem satisfied. With the tissue-paper package in her hand, she sat on the edge of her bed, frowning thoughtfully, her fingers slowly tapping her lips. Presently a light came into her eyes. She lit a candle and stole softly through the girls' rooms, into the great gaunt chamber that was the studio. In one corner was a bookcase, overflowing with old novels, magazines and battered school books. It was a higgledy-piggledy collection of years, a library without value save for five substantial volumes of Grove's Musical Dictionary on a lower shelf. Mrs. Sturgis knelt before these, drew them out one by one and laid them beside her on the floor. She opened the first volume and read the inscription: "To my ever patient, gentle Henrietta, for five trying years my devoted wife, true friend and loving companion, from her grateful and affectionate husband, Ralph." There was the date—12 years ago—and he had died within six months after he had written those words. Her fingers moved to her trembling lips and she frowned darkly.

She closed the book, carried the five volumes to a shelf in a closet near at hand, and tucked them out of sight in a far corner. There was one last business to be performed; the books in the bookcase must be rearranged to fill the vacant place where the dictionary had stood. Mrs. Sturgis was not satisfied until her efforts seemed convincing. At last she picked up her wavering candle and made her way back to her own room. As she got into bed the old onyx clock on the mantel in the dining room struck three blurred notes upon its tiny harsh gong. Only when darkness had shut down and the light was silent did tears come to the tired eyes. There was then a blinding rush, and a few quick, straggling sobs. Mrs. Sturgis stifled these and wiped her eyes hardly upon a fold of the rough sheet. She steadied a trembling lip with a firm hand and resolutely turned upon her side to compose herself for sleep.

It took all Jeannette's young, vigorous determination to carry into effect the plan she had conceived the night of the Armenian dance. She met with an unexpected degree of opposition from her mother, and even from Alice, who was as a rule indecisive, and the vaguest of persons in expressing opinions. It was too grave a step; Janny might come to regret it bitterly some day, and it might be too late then to go back; Alice thought perhaps it would be wiser to wait awhile. But Jeannette did not want to wait. The more she thought about being a wage earner, and her own mistress, free to do as she pleased and spend her money as she chose, the more eager she was to be done with school and the supervision of teachers. She felt suddenly grown up, and looked enviously at the young women she met hurrying to the elevated station at Ninety-third street in the early mornings on their way downtown to business. She noted how they dressed and critically observed those who carried their lunches. She thought about what she would wear, the kind of hat and shoes she would select, when she was one of them. If it meant skipping her noonday meal entirely, she decided, she would never be guilty of carrying lunch with her. Alice and her intimates at school on a sudden became dreadfully young to her; she was irritated by their giggling silliness. She chose to treat them all with a certain aloofness, and began to regard herself already as a highly paid, valued, secretary of the president of a large corporation. In the evenings she found excuses for visiting Rosa Najarian and eagerly listened to the older girl's account of the business routine of her days.

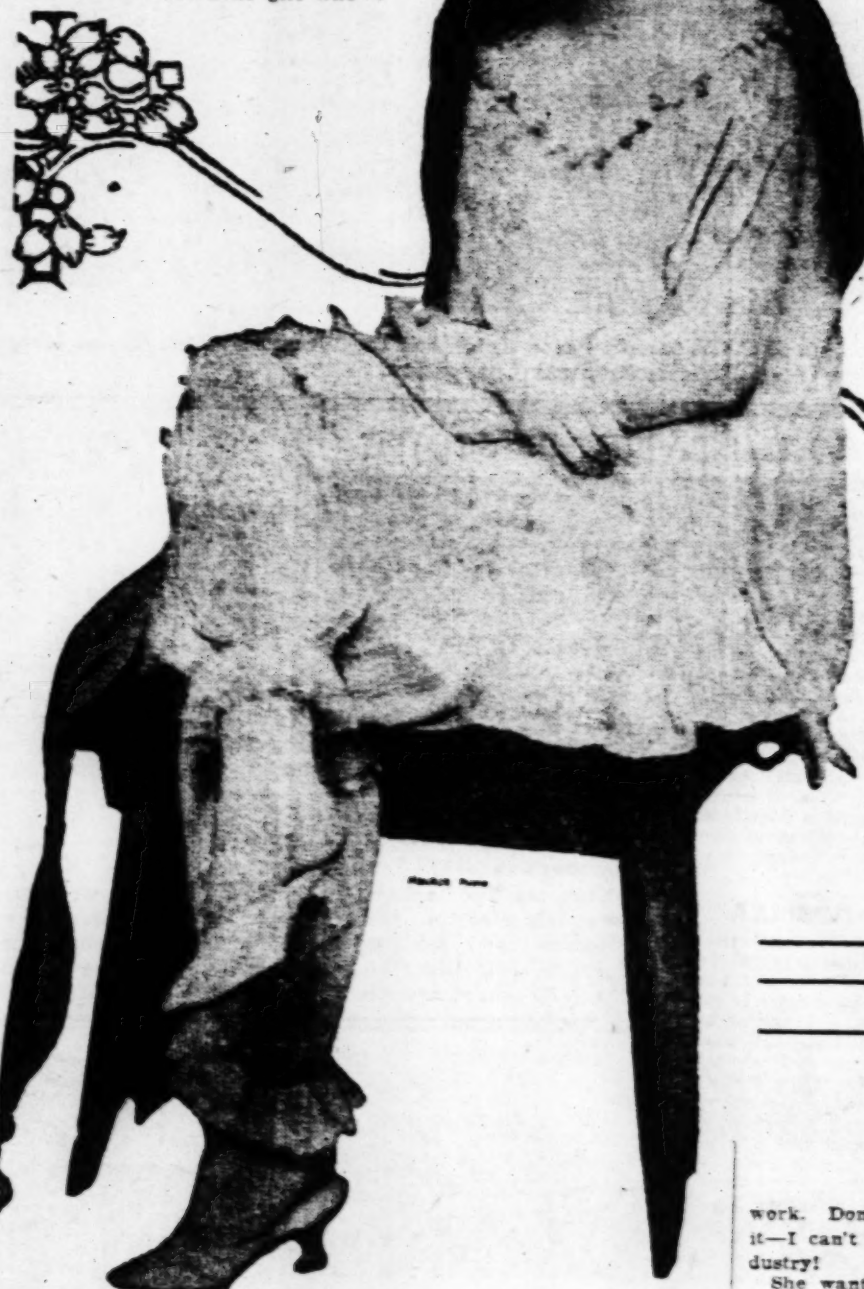

The tuition at the Gerard Commercial School for 10 weeks' instruction in shorthand and typing was $50, payable in advance, and it was her inability to get this sum that prevented Jeannette from putting her plan immediately into effect. She made herself unhappy and her mother and sister unhappy by worrying about it. Mrs. Sturgis fretted uncomfortably. She alone was aware of an easy way by which the money could be obtained, but since she did not approve of her daughter's purpose, she had no inclination to divulge it.

Six Broadway Cinderellas

She Was the Original Flapper in "Bunker Bean," When She Was Hardly Old Enough to Be a Flapper Herself; However, She Had Had Years of Experience on the Stage—for at Twelve, She Walked on, at Five Minutes' Notice, and Made a Hit. Like Cinderella, She Stepped Into Big Parts From the Very First, and Also Like Cinderella, She Had Her Struggles Before Success Came Along.

It was a box of candy that took Florence Shirley out of a convent and put her on the stage. She was a lovely, demure little 12-year-old, visiting her sister, Gertrude, in Boston during the Christmas holidays, and spending every bit of time that she possibly could at the theater where Gertrude, elder sister of this charming Cinderella, was appearing in "The Circus Girl." The little girl who for the week after that. Digging ditches is recreation by comparison.

She stayed with the company for three years, and played over 100 different parts. This was the famous Castle Square Stock Company, and it was a feather in a young girl's cap to have an engagement with it. Florence played in comedy, drama, everything. She had Shakespeare, Shaw, Ibsen, musical comedy, Harvard plays that were being tried out, whatever came along. She played with many well-known actors. And, incidentally, she finished her high school course and did one year of college

Hill. She certainly couldn't be in two places at once.

Now, her sister Gertrude, who is very little older than Florence, looks so much like her that they might be twins. Florence, walking the floor and trying to think, had an inspiration.

"You take my place!" she cried to the amazed Gertrude. "You go to Union Hill. They'll never know the difference."

And they never did. To this day they don't. Gertrude, still not quite realizing what had happened, was packed off across the river to Union Hill, the following morning, and Florence gathered up her goods and chattels the minute Gertrude was safely on the ferry and hied her off to Chicago. It was a long part, but she learned work. Don't ask me how she did it—I can't even imagine such industry.

She wanted to be nearer home than Boston, however; her people had been New Yorkers since 1793, and Manhattan was home to her. So she took an engagement with the stock company at Union Hill, N. J., from which so many famous actresses have been graduated. Just three days later she was offered the role of "Ruth" in the Chicago company of "Along Came Ruth," which Henry W. Savage was putting on.

It was a dilemma. She couldn't turn down a wonderful engagement like that. She couldn't break her promise to the people at Union and Chicago—a 24-hour trip. She had one rehearsal, and that was all. This was her first chance as a leading lady.

And she was tremendously successful. The little Cinderella who had worked so hard in stock and done her school work on the side was a sensational success. But she didn't realize it. She just thought that people were being awfully nice to like her so well. And she worked harder than ever. Then came the play that so many of us associate with Florence Shirley. It was "His Majesty Bunker Bean," and she was "The Flapper"—the first one of them all. Nobody knows how many flappers there have been since. They've come near being a menace to civilization. Well, Florence Shirley started them on their career of crime. And that part started her on Broadway; it was the first thing she did on the New York stage.

Now, in many professions, as your efforts are crowned with success everything seems to come in New York. On the stage she was in "Why Men Love Me," in which she was a per. Having played a convincing argument for any role, she had to be leaving anywhere, if she that she thought she is at the other end of the river.

Her next success was while she was in that production that she received a leg- role of "Tanya," in which she was a more than 800 member of the "Tanya." He stipulated that she flapper, she had to receive $25,000 on Thanksgiving day—his anniversary—when "Tanya" her success was accepted by New York as "Painting Lady" when Segal, Carl Hanser, Rinney and the other an illustrious cast with it for two years. She was tremendously popular, she, but she said she was rather, she has always longing for the stage and went into Hollywood, the time in Florence to study its new paintings and architecture. She had a number of Shakespearean at her command.

Amor has it that she is to be before long in a revival of "The Merry Mary Ann." But she isn't saying anything definite about it yet.

Just a Bit of Advice. Tell me, what would you say to a girl who wanted to go on the stage and wasn't lucky enough to be along as a youngster when the other child had had too much candy? I asked her. "I'd tell her to do just what I did—go into stock," she answered promptly. "It gives a girl

No. II—THE SHIRLEY

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN By HELEN ROWLAND

THE LOST ART OF FLIRTATION.
At this time of the year, how we do sigh for the revival of the beautiful lost art of flirtation!

A new flirtation is as necessary to the soul in spring as a new hat, a quinine tonic and a new motor car.

Flirtation went out of fashion along with petticoats, table manners—and marrying men; and with it went a lot of life's flavor.

Flirtation was the gentle art of leading a man on by holding him off. It was to "petting" what waiting was to jazz; what a half promise is to a positive threat.

Flirtation was a guessing game, in which a woman kept a man wondering whether or not he could kiss her. Nowadays he merely wonders whether or not he's GOT to kiss her.

Flirtation was the hors d'oeuvres to love; "petting" is more like a quick lunch at a cafeteria. Cheap and satisfying for the moment—but apt to leave you with a dull feeling of sentimental indigestion.

Flirtation was like a Christmas stocking. A man never knew what there was in it—but it was always a surprise. It piqued the curiosity and stimulated the imagination.

Flirtation was the red tape through which a man had to go in order to kiss a girl. A girl may have been kissed just as often then as now; but flirtation made the kiss seem more like a privilege and less like an obligation—more like a KISS and less like a handshake.

Flirtation filled the course of true love with hazards, which made the game infinitely more exciting. It made a woman something to be won, like a golf trophy, instead of something to be dodged, like a tax collector.

There were more real thrills in the magnetic meeting of the eyes, the electric touch of finger tips, than there are in today's "intensive lovemaking," which appears to consist of a pat on the back and the assurance that you are "a good little scout."

Times may change, but human nature never changes; and now, as always, a man feels cheated of his sport when "the fish not only swallows the bait, but tries to climb up the line."

Now, as always, the sweetest part of a kiss is the moment just before taking—and most of the zest of the love chase consists in not knowing just WHEN that moment will come!

Now, as always, "the longest way 'round' is the shortest cut to matrimony."

And flirtation is merely pretending to take a detour when you are really following the post road to the altar—and a man's heart.

training that she can't get in any other way. Even actresses, who have gone quite high in their profession are helped by a season in stock; it wears off the effects of playing one role too long.

"It's awfully hard work, but nobody who isn't willing to work hard has any chance of getting along on the stage. And acting is fascinating work; once you've got well into it, you never want to give it up."

Knowing that she was one of the very young matrons of the theatrical world, and also a fond mama, gave me the cue for my next question. I thought it was a good one.

"When your daughter grows up, will you let her go on the stage?" I asked.

She laughed delightedly at that. "I'd be glad to if she wants to when the time comes," she answered at last.

Well, even though she has a husband and a baby, she doesn't look any older than she did when she was the only flapper in the land.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

An Appetizer.
There is no fruit cup so refreshing as one consisting of apples, grapefruit, oranges and Hawaiian pineapple.

To Frost Glass.
Glass may be frosted by the amateur by first cleaning the glass and then applying a thin coat of white lead mixed with turpentine. Then pat lightly all over the glass with a pad of cheesecloth, stippling to suit.

Gilt Frames.
Housecleaning is coming apace and a good method of cleaning gilt frames may be welcome. Go over the gilt with a dry cloth to remove all dust. Then wash with warm water in which a medium-sized onion has been boiled. Rub dry with soft cloths.

To Relieve Toothache.
Should you be unfortunate enough to have a toothache in the night when a dentist is not available, try the following temporary relief: One teaspoonful of ground ginger, one teaspoonful of powdered mustard, mixed with hot water to the consistency of thick paste. Place on a clean cloth and apply to the surface directly over the aching tooth or area of neuralgia. Before applying it is wise to apply a little white vaseline to prevent blistering. Do not apply directly to the gums.

FRUIT COBBLER.

This is a Southern favorite and can be made of preserved as well as of fresh fruit. Pare and quarter tart apple, dip each piece in melted butter, then roll it in spiced sugar. Have ready, a crust-lined, shallow, square baking-pan and fill with the apples. Turn over them, a half cupful of honey or maple syrup and an equal amount of water. Bake the cobbler until the apples are soft and the crust is done. Serve it hot with a little sweet cream or with whipped cream. Peaches, fresh or canned, plums and large strawberries make excellent cobbler. The butter should be omitted in case of berries.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

Friendship Renewed

Time is friendship's strongest test.
And proves which friends are true and best.

—Farmer Brown's Boy.

It became clear to Farmer Brown's Boy that Jimmy Skunk had no intention of coming out of the sugar house. "The little scamp!" said Farmer Brown's Boy. "The little black-and-white scamp! He knows a good thing when he finds it. Either I must leave him here and go home and be laughed at, or I must go in there and find out if Jimmy is still friendly."

He lit a match, and by the light of this he slowly entered the sugar house. All the time he looked sharply in every direction for Jimmy Skunk. At last he reached the lantern and lighted that. With the light from this he could see better. When he had looked everywhere excepting under the bunk in which he slept every night, he knew that there was where Jimmy must be.

He built up a fire, for the sugar house was cold. Then he sat down between the door and the bunk. He wanted to be where he could get out in a hurry if Jimmy should come from under the bunk and appear to be in a bad temper. But Jimmy didn't come out. Farmer Brown's Boy began to grow sleepy. He yawned. "I guess," thought he, "that Jimmy must be asleep under there. I don't propose to sit up all night for Jimmy Skunk or anyone else. If I can get into that bunk without disturbing Jimmy I'll be all right."

So Farmer Brown's Boy got ready for bed. Very slowly he tiptoed over to the bunk and climbed into it. Then with a sigh of relief he rolled up in his blankets and soon was fast asleep. So Farmer Brown's Boy slept in the bunk, and Jimmy Skunk slept under the bunk.

Jimmy was the first one up the next morning. Farmer Brown's Boy was awakened by the rattling of tin. At first he couldn't think what this might be. Then he remembered who had spent the night in that sugar house with him. He peeped over the edge of his bunk and right away he saw Jimmy Skunk. Jimmy was poking about some sap pails, and had made the noise which had awakened Farmer Brown's Boy.

The latter watched Jimmy for a while. "I wish I'd left that door open last night," he muttered. "If I had Jimmy might have gone out. As it is, he is shut in here. My goodness, it would be awful if Jimmy should take a notion to use some of that scent of his in here! As long as I lie here I guess I am all right. But I can't lie here all day."

He waited until Jimmy was at the other end of the little sugar house. Then very slowly, so as not to startle Jimmy, he got out of his bunk, picked up his clothes, tiptoed over to the door, opened it, and with a sigh of thankfulness went outside. There he dressed. Then he patiently waited for Jimmy to come out.

But Jimmy didn't come. Farmer Brown's Boy began to grow hungry. He wanted his breakfast. He ventured to peep inside again. Jimmy was still investigating things. Farmer Brown's Boy stepped inside. Jimmy heard him. Jimmy turned to face him. His big, plummy tail began to go up. It was Jimmy's danger signal. Farmer Brown's Boy stood perfectly still and spoke softly. Slowly

Philosophical Phrasings

There is small choice in rotten apples.

A smoky chimney and a scolding wife are two bad companions.

What the soul is to the man the church is to the world.

BONUS PASSES SENATE, BUT FATE STILL IS IN DOUBT

Though It Received 67 Votes, Margin Above Number Necessary to Override Presidential Veto Is Narrow—Cash Option Feature Beaten.

FEW DEFEND INSURANCE PLAN

Clause Adopted Extending Final Date of Filing Applications and Clearing Way for Cash Payments After Election.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
22-25 West Building.
WASHINGTON, April 24.—By an overwhelming vote the Senate passed the soldier bonus bill providing paid-up insurance for service men, turned down the cash option feature proposed by Senator Copeland (Dem.) of New York, and amended the bill in such a way as to make it possible for Congress to renew consideration of it after March 4 next.

The bill, as amended, passed yesterday by a vote of 67 to 17, a majority more than the constitutional two-thirds—64 votes—necessary to override a presidential veto. The cash option provision, originally projected as a political gesture, was nearly adopted. It was defeated by a vote of 37 to 48. Its adoption, in the opinion of most experts, would have insured final defeat of the bill by presidential veto.

The bill passed in the Senate is almost identical with that passed by the House, except for minor amendments that can be quickly ironed out in conference.

With the verdict of Congress finally rendered on a question at issue for several years, interest in the measure now rests with the White House. The President has said he is opposed to a Bonus. Bonus supporters hope that if he vetoes the bill it can be passed over his veto.

However, the President has not announced his position relative to the insurance bonus bill. Nor is the belief that a veto can be overridden justified by the attitude of Senators toward the bill yesterday. Although the bill received three votes more than two-thirds, this is a narrow margin, and the bonus bill may figure once more in the Senate in a dramatic fight for its life should the President veto it.

Few Praise Bill.
Probably never before in the history of Congress was a bill passed which so few people seemed to want. It was hated by many who finally voted for it and received its encomiums from its friends.

The arguments against it ran all the way from deception of the taxpayer, a "gold-brick" for the soldier, a cowardly abandonment of principle and sanity, to an economic offense against the country. Seemingly wanted by no one, it was handled as a political measure which few had the courage to regard frankly on the eve of a general election.

Few potential Democratic candidates for the presidency met the issue. Carter Glass of Virginia declared himself openly against the bonus, because he regarded it as an affront to the soldier and because the finances of the country would not stand the added expense. Senator Underwood of Alabama, expressing opposition to the bonus as a proposition, voted for the cash option as a more honest and more courageous form of legislation. He voted against the bill as adopted.

Senator Ralston of Indiana expressed himself briefly as favorable to the insurance, because voting for the cash option might endanger the bill as a whole.

Senator Copeland of New York led the fight for the cash option. Despite the attitude of American Legion officials, and after describing the insurance as a "Tombrone measure," he voted for it.

Still another possible presidential candidate, Senator Robinson (Dem.) of Arkansas, voted against the cash option for reasons similar to those expressed by Ralston.
